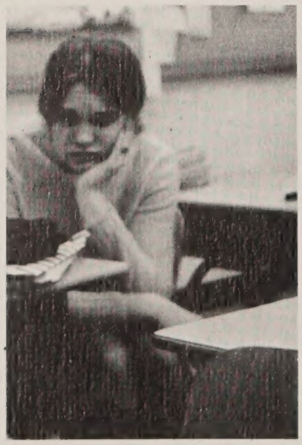
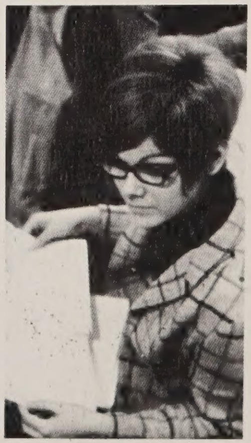
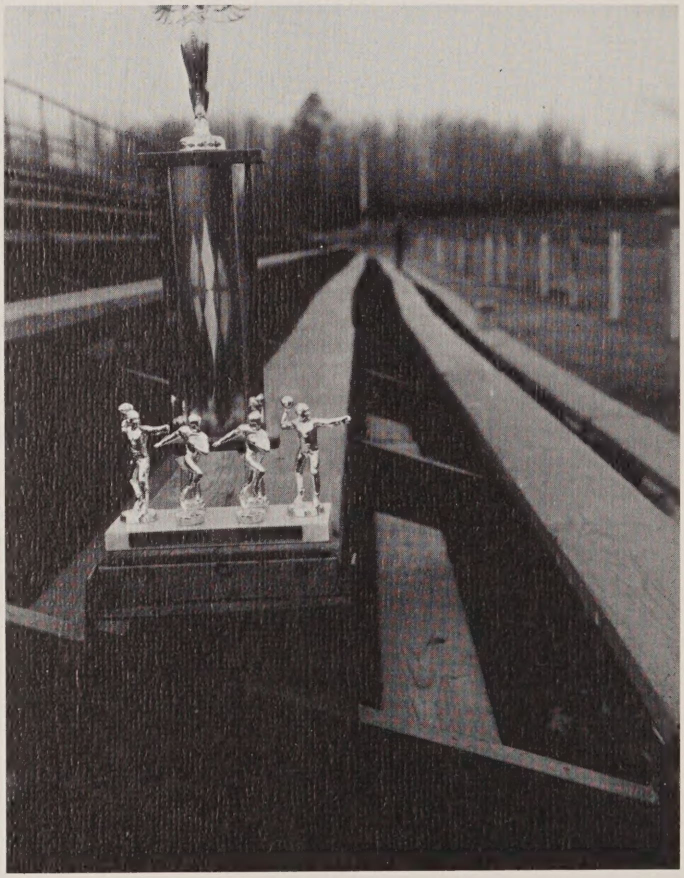
The sun shines down on the golden-haired,
peeking out from behind shadows and rain.



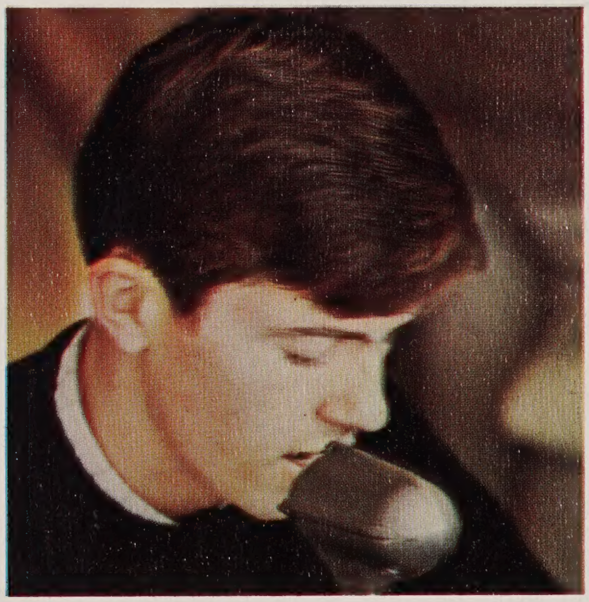


Dreams are soft, like angel hair and pastels.



There's something about standing alone.
Why are people afraid to be alone?
There's no one there to hurt you.

Why are we here? To be.
I wonder. I was born to live,
to be happy, and to love.
To live is to listen to someone's problems.
To live is to be you.
Happiness is a feeling.
Love is in practice.
Love is beautiful.



I want to go. I don't know where.
I don't give a damn. I live.
I will love again. I'm tired. Confused.
Why is life here?
I can't wait. I can't have you.
God and I talk. I touch you.
I now see it two ways. What can I do?
That is Life? Life–Life is wonderful with love.
I want to be straightened out.
I don't know what. I love you.

We dream we are bound together by a feeling of timid devotion to a mystery that holds our town.

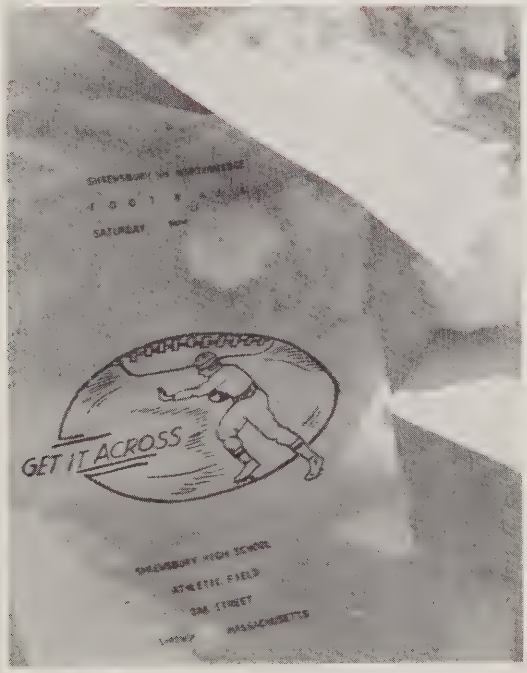
ONE WAY



SATURDAY
GET IT ACROSS
ATHLETIC FIELD
MASSACHUSETTS

It is a day and it has to be lived.

We are only tiny candles in a world of light.

There was a time when life seemed real and it was not; now it is real and it seems not.

We are an expression felt and created by others, that of love.

It's weird, all this growing up.

A human being who understands.
"Why is Kathy crying?"
A person who laughs at us, but not really.
"Did you know that in 1698 Massachusetts passed a law against boys with long hair?"
Standing, hand in pocket, watching but involved.
"You only have four minutes Bruce, so . . ."
Gentle reprimander
"From now on."
He kids us.
"Best Yearbook staff in the school," he says.
Wants the best for us.
"Go right ahead, go right ahead."
Knows what we feel.
"It's not the end of the world."
Someone who teaches, yet learns.
"It's not necessarily wrong."
Makes people interested enough in us.
He helps us know. A teacher who is a people.
Thank you Mr. Tivnan.

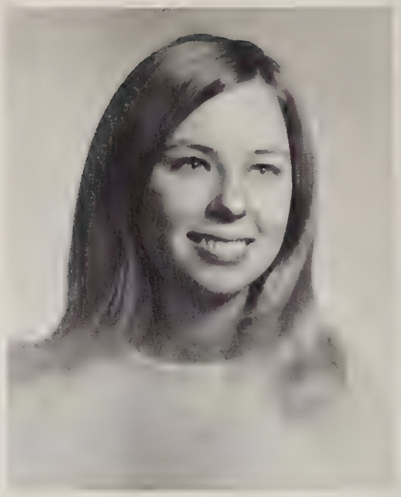
Georgeanne M. Aldrich

"Beauty: a note that set the heartstring quivering as it flew by; the shimmer of the blood beneath a skin translucent in the sunlight."



Sherry Elizabeth Allen

"The last, best fruit which comes to perfection, even in the kindliest soul, is, tenderness toward the hard, forbearance toward the unforbearing, warmth of heart toward the cold, philanthropy toward the misanthropic."

Serafina Angelico

"She walks in beauty, like the night
Of cloudless climes and starry skies,
And all that's best of dark and bright
Meet in her aspect and her eyes."

Paul T. Arnberg

"Any who seek him seek in him the seeker:
His life is a pursuit of a pursuit forever.
It is the future that creates his present.
All is an interminable chain of longing."

Ellen Marie Backholm

"The mountain goes on being a mountain, and the sea, a sea, but life is frail as a petal in a world like an insect's shell."

Jane Everett Baker

"She is among the rare, the chosen ones whose inner space is wind of scent, do not insist on the attempt to hold the bloom in trembling hands, nor keep herself from trying."

Alyce Christine Ball

"This would be my desire:
To give of love all that I have,
And more if that could be:
To borrow joy and lend it out again;
To keep an open door,
Without a lock upon my heart."

Frederick Banks

"Before an important decision someone clutches your hand—a glimpse of gold in the iron-grey, the proof of all you have never dared to believe."

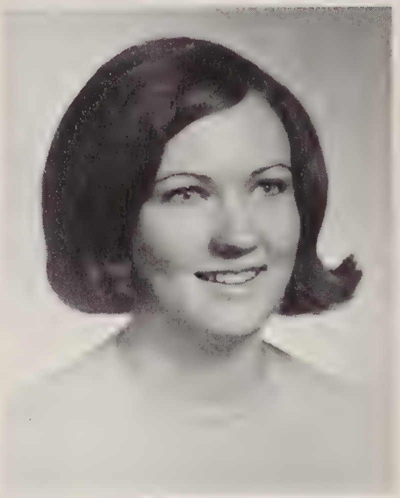
Cecilia Mary Baroni

"Nothing is so contagious as enthusiasm; it is the real allegory of the tale of Orpheus; it moves stone, it charms brutes. Enthusiasm is the genius of sincerity, and truth accomplishes no victories without it."

Joyce Ellen Bartlett

"For what am I here for if not to link fingers with daughters whose wistfulness worlds never answer? What is a song for if not to stretch hands out to signal the falling, 'You're never alone'?"



Carol I. Behrle

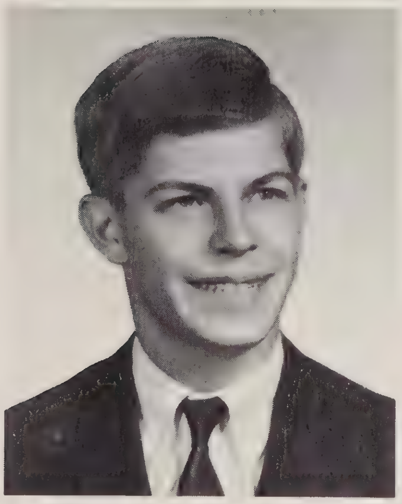
"The world stands out on either side
No wider than the heart is wide.
The heart can push the sea and land
Farther away on either hand;
The soul can split the sky in two,
And let the face of God shine through."

Cathy Noreen Bergman

"Only in one's imagination does every truth find an effective and undeniable existence. Imagination, not invention, is the supreme master of life. The imagination enters into all the details and ennobles life."

Stephen Craig Bergstrom

"Somebody said that it couldn't be done, but he replied that "maybe it couldn't" but he would be the one who wouldn't say so till he tried. So he buckled right in with the trace of a grin on his face. He started to sing as he tackled the thing that couldn't be done, and he did it."

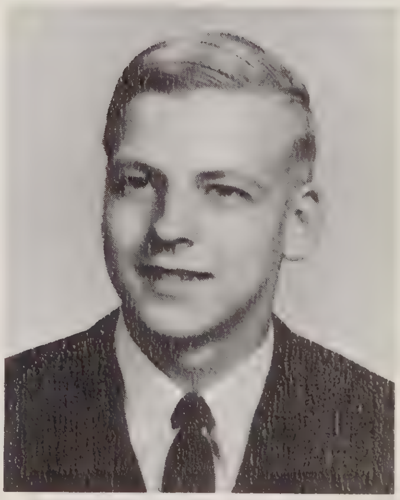


Ronald J. Berquist

"From the Past and Unavailing
Out of cloudland we are steering:
After groping, after fearing,
Into starlight we come trailing,
And we find the stars are true."

Robert L. Berthiaume

"It is not worthwhile to strain one's self to tell the truth to people who habitually discount everything you tell them, whether it is true or isn't."



William A. Biliouris

"He will come out between two warders,
Lean and sunburnt, a little bent,
As of apologizing for his strength,
His features tense, but looking quite calm."

Matthew Louis Bisceglia

"When a friend calls to me from the road I don't stand still
And look around on all the hills I haven't hoed.
No, not as there is a time to talk.
I thrust my hoe in the mellow ground;
I go up to the stone wall for a friendly visit."

Suzanne Joan Biscotti

"There are places I'll remember all my life, though some have changed—some forever, not for better, some have gone and some remain. All these places have their moments, with lovers and friends, I still can recall. Some are dead and some are living.
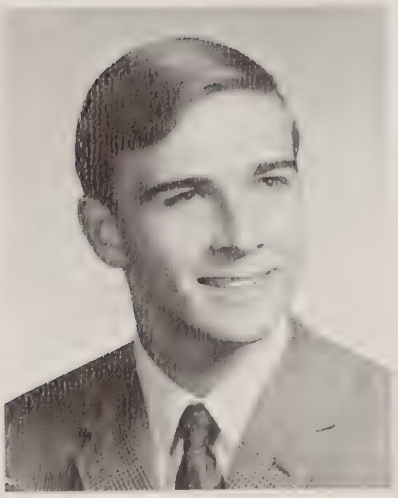
In my life, I've loved them all."



George W. Bleau

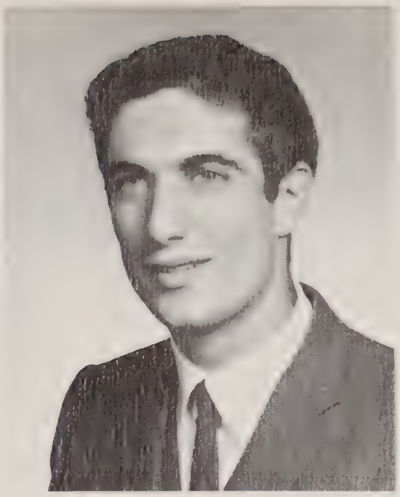
"There is a destiny that makes us brothers;
None goes his way alone:
All that we send into the lives of others
Comes back into our own."

Kathleen Maureen Bombard

"I've looked at life from both sides now
From win and lose and still somehow
It's life's illusions I recall
I really don't know life at all."

Joseph P. Bondanza

"I want to laugh when I know you're gay
And smile at the funny things you say.
I want to rejoice in your victory
As though you had done it all for me."



Rosalie M. Bondanza

"Let us always strive after the gentle humor of the heart, which knows how to smile at the world,
at our fellow-men, and at itself,
and which can stand a little above things."

Louis H. Bowmar

"You should not anger yourself about this world;
It does not care. Whatever comes, assign to its proper place in your little world and you will be happy."

Richard Paul Brazeau

"My object in living is to unite my avocation and my vocation
As my two eyes make one in sight. Only where love and need are one,
And the work is play for mortal stakes is the deed ever really done
For heaven and the future's sakes."

David William Brown

"It takes all sorts of
In and outdoor schooling
To get adapted to my Kind of fooling."

John Walter Broadbent

"Four things a man must do if he would make his record true:
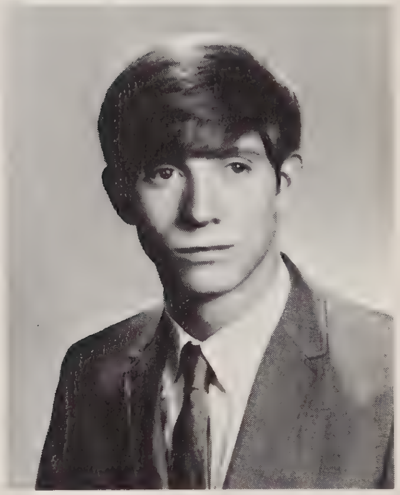
to think without confusion clearly;
to love his fellow men;
to act from honest motives purely;
to trust in God in heaven securely."



Dean Kingsley Burden

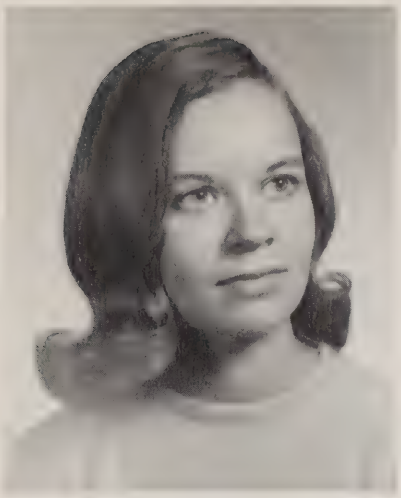
"My thoughts are scattered and they're cloudy.
They have no borders, no boundary.
Hang on to your hopes, my friend.
But if your hopes should pass away,
Simply pretend that you can build them again."

Dennis G. Burden

"He dreads no blast that care may bring him,
for he comes not there, he paints the coming future
from the past, the unknown is painted fair:
what he has shared he still believes to share."

Kathleen A. Burke

"Friendship—pure, unselfish friendship,
All through life's allotted span,
Nurtures, strengthens, widens, lengthens,
Man's relationship with man."



Vera Jean Burke

"But give me, Lord, eyes to behold the truth;
A seeing sense that knows the eternal right;
A heart with pity filled, and gentlest truth;
A manly faith that makes all darkness light;
Give me the power to labor for mankind."

Thomas E. Callan

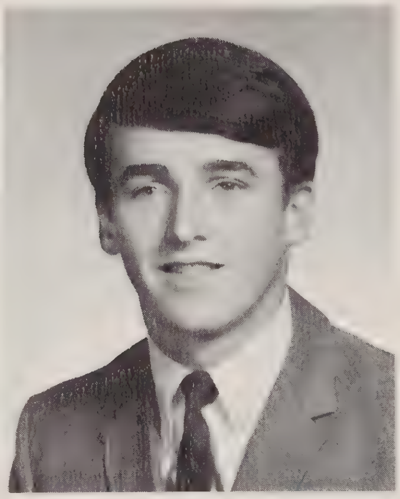
"The little mind who loves itself, will write and think with the vulgar; but the great mind will be bravely eccentric, and scorn the beaten road, from universal benevolence."

Bradford Calloway

"The three indispensibles of genius are understanding, feeling, and perseverance. The three that enrich genius are contentment of mind, the cherishing of good thoughts, and exercising the memory."

Joseph Francis Campanale

"Contentment produces in some measure, all those effects which the alchymest usually ascribes to what he calls the philosopher's stone; and if it does not bring riches, it does the same thing by banishing the desire of them."



James Michael Campbell

"He is so full of pleasant anecdote;
Time vanishes before him as he speaks,
And ruddy morning through the lattice peeps
Ere night seems well begun."

Judith Ann Cardinal

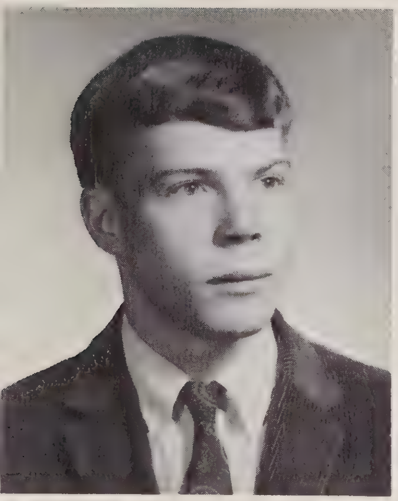
"Not for myself I make this plea, but for this race of mine:
Harness me down with your iron bands,
Be sure of your curb and rein:
For I scorn the power of your puny hands,
As the tempest scorns a chain."

Linda M. Carey

"What we have done for ourselves alone,
Dies with us;
What we have done for others and for the world,
Remains and is immortal."

Pamela Jane Caron

"A being breathing thoughtful breath, the reason firm, the temperate will,
Endurance, foresight, strength, and skill; a perfect woman nobly planned,
To warn, to comfort, and command; and yet a Spirit still and bright
With something of angelic light."



Byron A. Carpenter

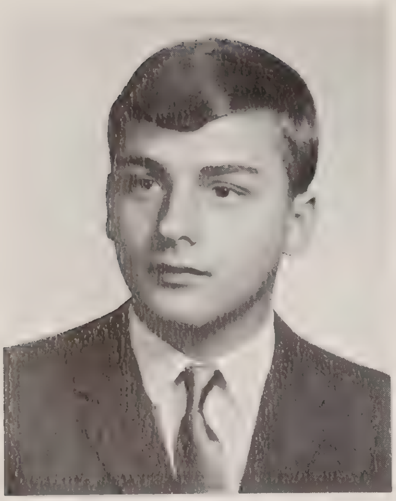
"The beings of the mind are not of clay;
Essentially immortal they create
And multiply in us a brighter ray
And more beloved existence."

Ellen E. Caruso

To preserve the silence within—amid all the noise. To remain open and quiet—no matter how many tramp across the parade ground in whirling dust under an arid sky."

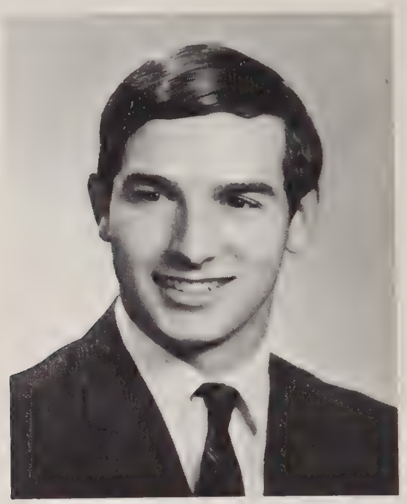
Deborah Ann Casey

"Goodness is something so simple:
Always to live for others,
Never to seek One's own advantage."



John F. Casillo

"The way to avoid the imputation of impudence is not to be ashamed of what we do, but never to do what we ought to be ashamed of."



Richard E. Casten

"That inexhaustible good nature, which is itself the most precious gift of Heaven, spreading itself like oil over the troubled sea of thought, and keeping the mind smooth and equable in the roughest weather."

Edward H. Church

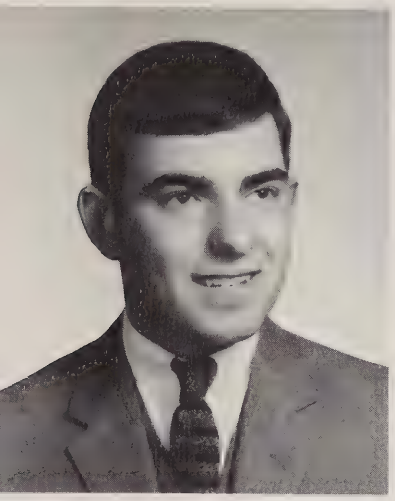
"I love to put all care away and listen to good music,
It strengthens me along the way,
And drives all strife and grief away,
It helps me near my God to stay—this listening to good music."

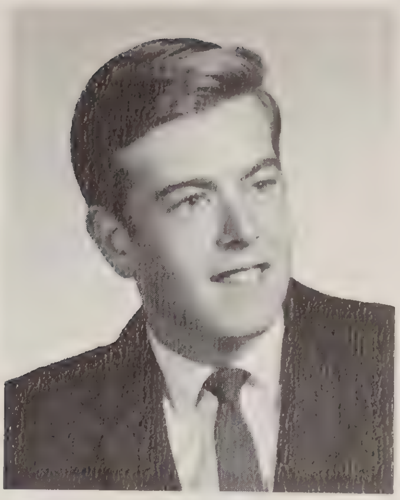
Barry Clapp

"They pass but over the world who trip over it quickly; for it is but a bog—that is, if we stop we sink. It is true that a light heart lives long."

Julio J. Colangelo

"Character is like a tree
And reputation like its shadow.
The shadow is what we think of it;
The tree is the real thing."



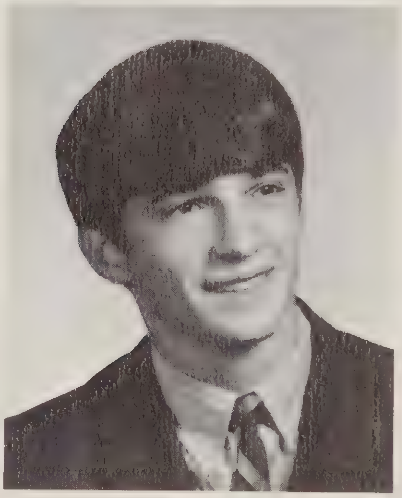


Stephen Wilder Collins

"Every man has his own peculiar and particular way of getting at and doing things, and he is often criticized because that way is not the one adopted by others. The great idea is to accomplish what you set out to do."

Orlando Coppellotti

"I have to live with myself, and so I want to be fit for myself to know. I want to be able, as days go by, always to look myself in the eye. I see what others may never see, I know what others may never know."

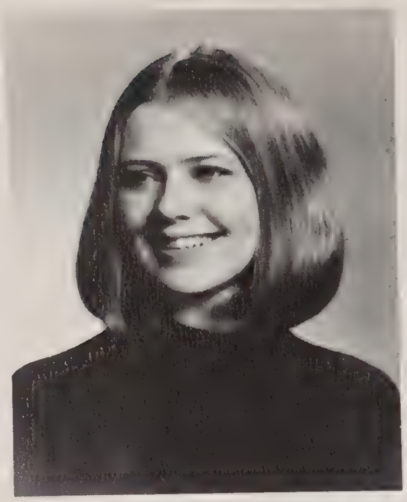


Mary Rose Cote

"Let music swell the breeze, and ring from all the trees sweet Freedom's song; let mortal tongues awake, let all that breathe partake, let rocks their silence break, the sound prolong."

Kathleen M. Cox

"She loved to laugh, and some way, she
Woke others to a sense of glee,
And many found when she was near,
An unaccustomed note of cheer
In everything they heard, or saw."



Wendy Eleanor Curran

"This above all: to thine own self be true,
And it must follow,
As the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man."

Daniel G. Damon

"I care not what his temples or his creeds,
One thing holds firm and fast—
That into his fateful heap of days and deeds
The soul of man is cast."

Edward Debs

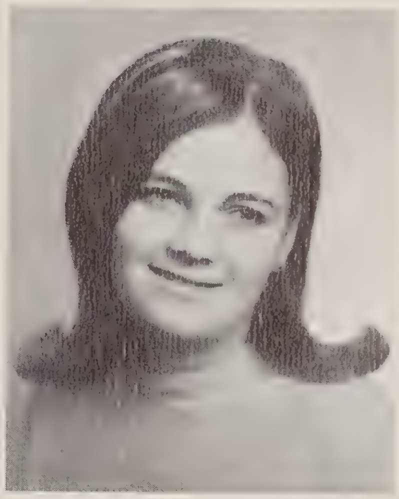
"You work that you may keep pace with the earth and the soul of the earth. For to be idle is to become a stranger unto the seasons, and to step out of life's procession, that marches in majesty and proud submission towards the infinite."

Elaine K. De Falco

"The gladness of life is what to be seen.
My happiness and gaiety shall mean the most to me.
But I shall never overlook the sadness
And poverty not always written in the books."

Lucia Jean D'Errico

"Greatness: to hate hate, and to love love; to smile when tears are close; to look up with unquenchable faith in something ever more about to be. That is what any human being can do, and be great."



Michael A. D'Errico

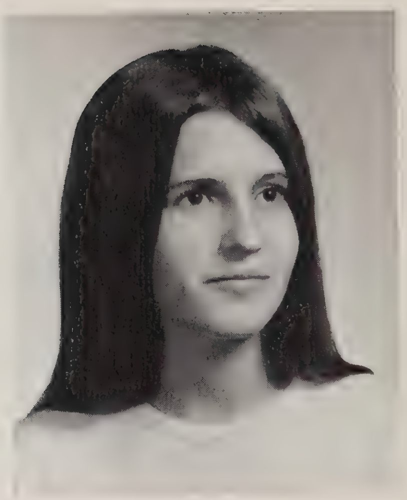
"I hold that while man exists it is his duty to improve not only his own conditions, but to assist in ameliorating mankind . . . I am for those means which will give the greatest good to the greatest number."

Wayne Dickie Jr.

"So many fantastic colors appear in a wonderland, many fantastic colors, makes me feel so good. You got that go feeling, such good responses. You got that rainbow feeling, but the rainbow has a beard."

Lucille F. Di Terlizzi

"The clouds that cover the sunshine.
They cannot banish the sun,
And the earth shines out the brighter
When the rain is done.
Often through wrong's own darkness
Comes the living strength of light."

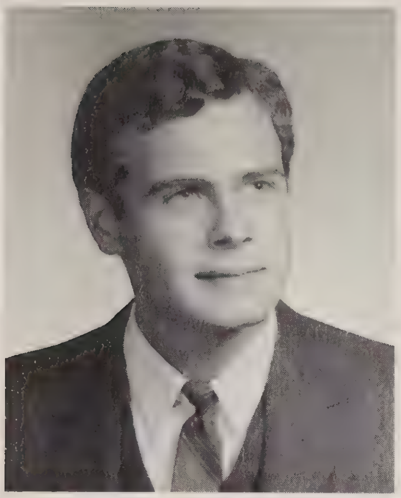


Leanna Jean Dole

"Beauty depends on simplicity—I mean the true simplicity of a rightly and nobly ordered mind and character. He is a fool who seriously inclines to weigh the beautiful by any other standard than that of the good."

Gayle Ann Dombrowski

"Luck is not chance—it's toil—
Fortune's expensive smile is earned—
All men for honor hardest work but are not known to earn—
Paid after they have ceased to work in some other world or word."



John K. Donahue

"The fuss you make is far too much; I really have no need of such.
If even dying is to be made a social function, then; please, grant me the favor of sneaking out on tiptoe without disturbing the party."

Cathy Jeanne Dumas

"I'll give a helping hand to the good returning man.
The happiness of working together
each man different from another.
The smile across my face will show my love for all mankind.
The tear shear in my eye shall dissolve and hide away to return on another happy day."

Margaret R. Durkin

"And this our life, exempt from public haunt
Finds tongues in trees, books, in the running brooks, Sermons in stone, and good in everything."

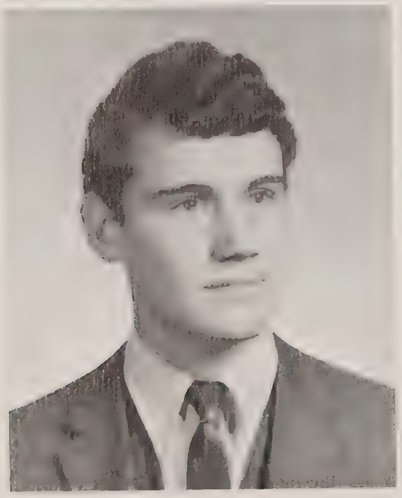
Elaine Cynthia Elkind

"So here's to all the little things,
The done-and-then-forgotten things,
Those 'Oh, it's simply nothing' things,
That make life worth the fight."

Gerald Steven Emerson

"It is said that while Leonardo Da Vinci was creating The Last Supper, he would stand looking at his work. He would carry the unfinished painting in his mind, letting his subconscious work on it. Often the master painter would add a touch or two. But each was the touch of genius."



David Robert Erickson

"What must come to pass, should come to pass. Within the limits of that 'must', therefore you are invulnerable."

Robin M. Falcione

"A touch of gentleness, strong and firm;
and always a smile to surprise.
Life's treasures are given to us by thee.
We accept them with generosity.
And return to you the pleasures that God has given us."

James Michael Farnell

"People are always blaming their circumstances for what they are.
I don't believe in circumstances.
The people who get on in this world are the people who get up and look for the circumstances they want, and, if they can't find them, make them."

John David Farnell

"That best portion of a good man's life—
His little, nameless, unremembered acts
Of kindness and of love."

Joseph Robert Faucher

"I will be true, for there are those who trust me;
I will be pure, for there are those who care;
I will be strong, for there is much to suffer;
I will be brave, for there is much to dare."

Brian James Ferguson

"The stir is over. I step forth on the boards,
Leaning against an upright at the entrance,
I strain to make the far-off echo yield
A cue to the events that may come in my day."

Candace Robin Fitts

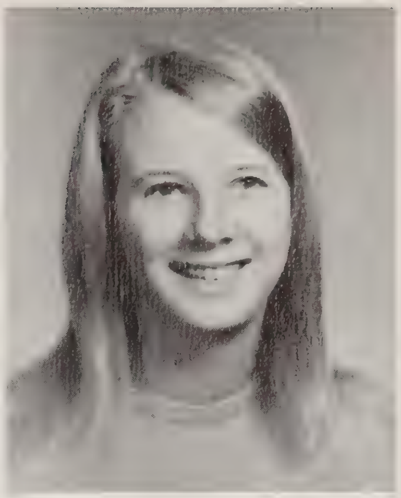
"Sleepless questions in the small hours:
Have I done right? Why did I act just as I did?
Over and over again the same steps,
The same words: never the answer."

Richard H. Fletcher

"Look not mournfully into the Past. It comes not back again. Wisely improve the Present. It is thine. Go forth to meet the shawdowy Future, without fear, and with a manly heart."

Carlene Dina Flink

"Fair flower, that dost so comely grow,
Hid in this silent dull retreat,
Untouched, thy honied blossoms blow,
Unseen thy little branches greet:
No roving foot shall crush thee here,
No busy hand provoke a tear."



M. Darlene Flynn

"Your friend is your needs answered.
Without words, in friendship, all thoughts,
all desires, all expectations are born and shared, with joy that is unacclaimed.
In the sweetness of friendship let there be laughter, and sharing of pleasures."

Roger David Foss

"And it's just the jolly, joking things,
The 'Never-mind-the-trouble' things,
The 'Laugh-with-me-it's funny' things
That make the world seem bright."

Lois Ann Flynn

"A Fable: once upon a time there was a crown so heavy that it could only be worn by one who remained completely oblivious to its glitter."

Nancy Ann Frongillo

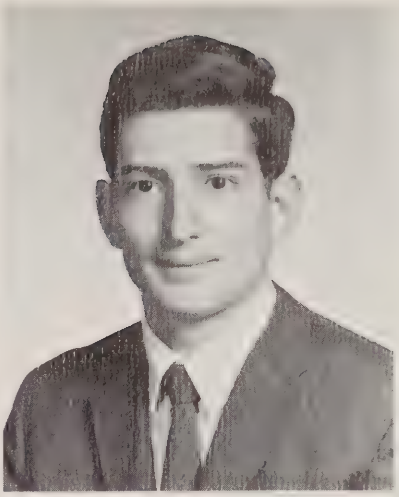
"It is worthier of Man to rise in laughter above life
Than to bewail it. He is more worthy of the Human race,
Who laughs at it, than he who sheds tears over it."

Patricia A. Frongillo

"Her merry fits she freshly 'gan to rear,
And did of joy and jollity devise,
Herself to cherish and her guest to cheer."

Nadine Monica Gaffney

"A full rich nature, free to trust,
Truthful and almost sternly just,
Impulsive, earnest, prompt to act,
And make her generous thought a fact,
Keeping with many a light disguise
The secret of self-sacrifice."

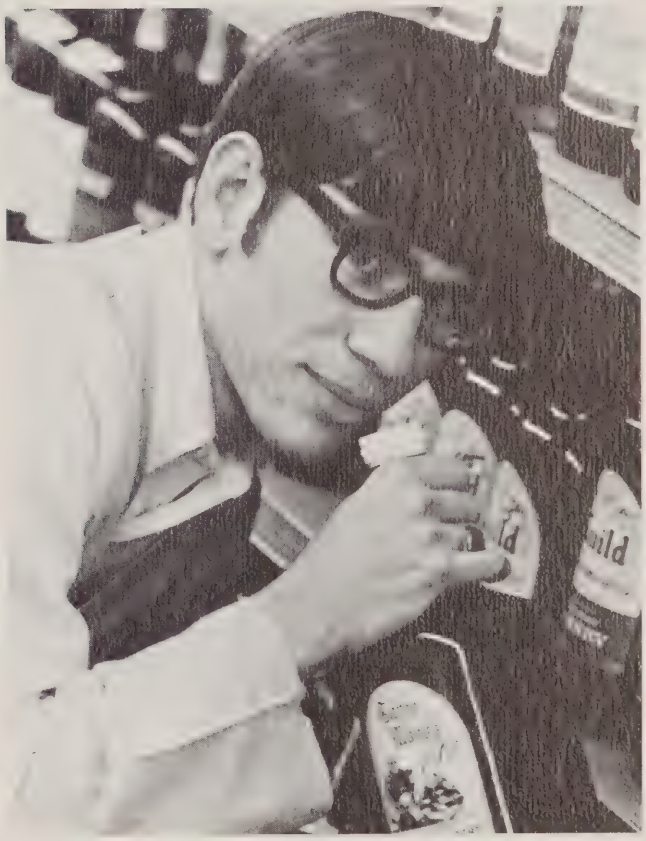


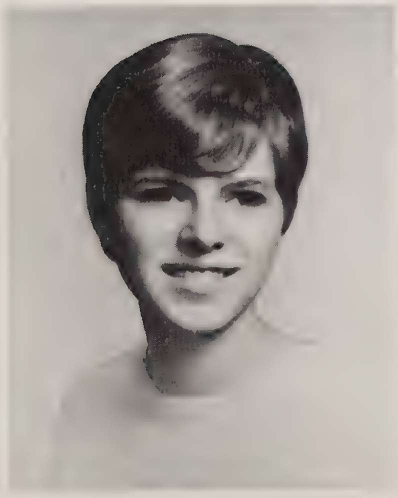
James Gagliardo

"He sits higher in all the people's hearts;
And that which would appear offence in us,
His countenance, like richest alchymy,
Will change to virtue and to worthiness."

Richard Gaudette

"The best is yet to be,
The last of life for which the first was made:
Our times are in his hand
Who saith, 'A whole I planned,
Youth shows but half; trust God: see all,
Nor be afraid!' "





Janette Elaine Gaumond

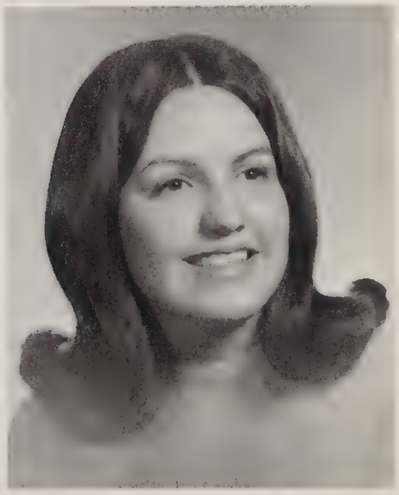
"An inborn grace that nothing lacks of culture or appliance,—
The warmth of genial courtesy, the calm of self-reliance,
The secret charm eluding art, its spirit, not its letter."

Paul M. Gentile

"Sport, that wrinkled care derides
And laughter, holding both his sides;
Come and trip it as you go,
On the light fantastic toe."

Sue Ellen George

"For life is the mirror of king and slave—
'Tis just what we are and do;
Then give the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you."



Vicki C. Giumentaro

"The restless spirit charm'd thy sweet existence,
Making all beauteous in youth's pleasant maze,
While gladsome hope illumed the outward distance,
And lit with sunbeams thy expectant days."

Janice D. Goyette

"Still in the paths of honour persevere,
And not from past nor present ills despair;
For blessings ever wait on virtuous deeds.
And, though late, a sure reward succeeds."

SHREWSBURY

Frank V. Grdich

"God whose gifts in gracious flood
Unto all who seek are sent
Only asks you to be good
And is content."

Randolph Grensavitch

"We wanderers, ever seeking the lonelier way, begin no day where we have ended anothed day; and no sunrise finds us where sunset left us. Ever while the earth sleeps we travel."

Christopher C. Haddad

"We are not sent into this world to do anything we cannot put to our hearts. We have certain work to do for our bread and that is to be done strenuously; other work to do for our delight and that is to be done heartily."

Sigrid Haggett

"Below the surface stream, shallow and light,
Of what we say we feel—below the stream,
As light, of what we think we feel—there flows
With noiseless current strong, obscure and deep,
The central stream of what we feel indeed."

Clifford S. Hakim

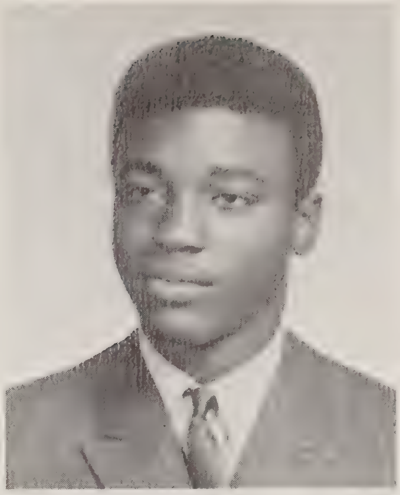
"Not of the sunlight, not of the moonlight, nor of the starlight! O young mariner down to the haven call your companions, launch your vessel, and crowd your canvas, and ere it vanishes over the margin, after it, follow it, follow the gleam."

Clyde J. Hakim

"His magic was not far to seek,—he was so human! Whether strong or weak, far from his kind neither sank nor soared, but sate an equal quest at every board: . . . for still himself he bore at manhood's simple level, and where'er he met a stranger, there he left a friend."

Gilbert Wayne Hales

"Smiling, sincere, incorruptible—
his body disciplined and limber.
A man who had become what he could,
And what he was—ready at any moment
To gather everything into one simple sacrifice."



Edward Allen Hampton

"The hidden well-spring of your soul must needs rise and run murmuring to the sea;
and the treasure of your infinite depths is revealed to your eyes. You would touch with your fingers the naked body of your dreams, and well you should."

John M. Hannah

"Being forced to work, and forced to do your best, breed in your temperance, self-control, diligence, strength of will, contentment and a hundred other virtues which the idle will never know."

Michael Matthew Hehir

"If a man has talent and learns somehow to use the whole of it, he has gloriously succeeded, and won a satisfaction and a triumph few men ever know."

Irene Henderson

"I had no time to hate, because the grave would hinder me,
And life was not so ample I could finish enmity.
Nor had I time to love; but since some industry must be,
The little toil, I thought, was large enough for me."

Karen Catherine Henry

"Give truth and your gift will be paid in kind,
And honor will honor meet;
And a smile that is sweet will surely find
A smile that is just as sweet."

Warren Davis Hobbs

"Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the pit from pole to pole,
I thank whatever gods there be
For my unconquerable soul."

Mary Elizabeth Hodgerney

"We should always leave the shadow,
Seek the sunshine of a smile;
Never is a day so darkened that
The hours are not worthwhile."

Donna Jane Holmquist

"Time traveled an faces passed
An many thoughts t me were taught
By names an heads too many t count
That touched my path an soon were gone
But some stayed on t remain as friends."

Mary Susan Iovieno

"If I had a song, I'd sing it in the morning;
I'd sing it in the evening; all over this land.
I'd sing about danger, I'd sing out warning,
I'd sing about the love between my brothers and my sisters;
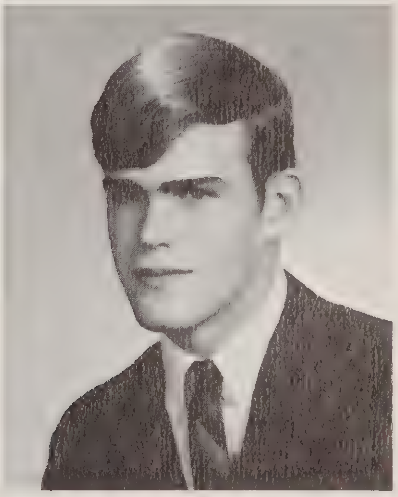
All over this land."

Paul Jacobson

"No man has ever come to true greatness who has not felt in some degree that his life belonged to his race, and thayt



Paula Sue Jakubiak

"Where there is love of the art, there the love of man is; and where the love of man is, there is love of the art. How deeper is the creative virtue of these words than the words: where a man's treasure is there is his heart also!"

Cynthia Ann James

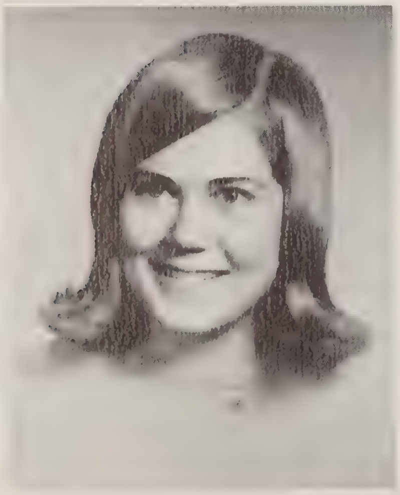
"Tell me not in mournful numbers, life is but an empty dream!
For the soul is dead that slumbers, and things are not what they seem.
Let us, then, be up and doing, with a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing, learn to labor and to wait."

Susan Virginia Janaitis

"Happiness is the only good.
The time to be happy is now,
The place to be happy is here,
The way to be happy is to make others so."

Nancy Elizabeth Jefts

"Give all to love; obey thy heart;
Friends, kindred days, estate, good—fame,
Plans, credit and the Muse, nothing refuse.
Leave all for love; yet, hear me, yet,
One word more thy heart beloved,
One more pulse of firm endeavor,
Keep thee today, tomorrow, forever."

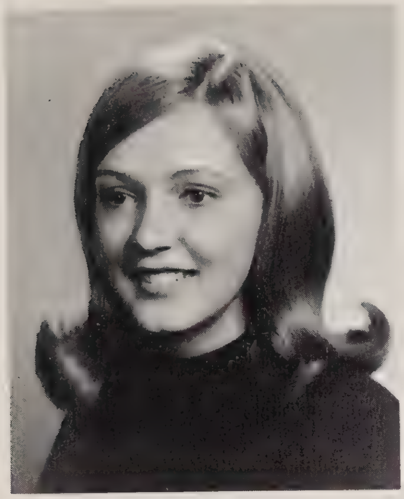


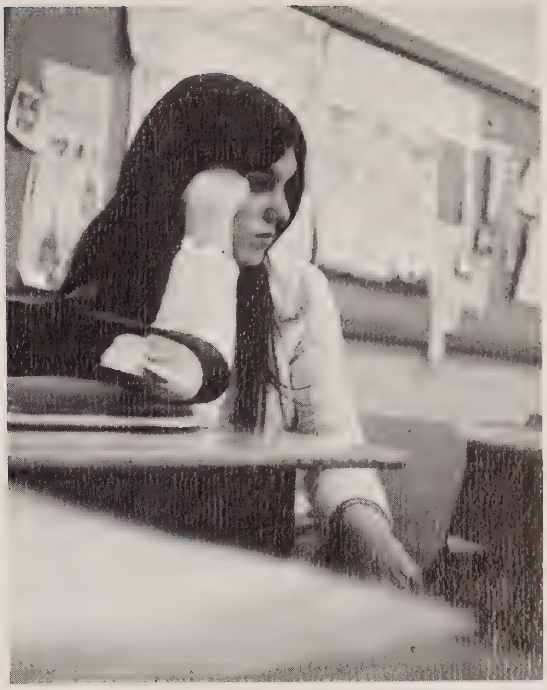
Nancy Ann Jensen

"The light dies in the low clouds. Falling snow drank in the dusk. Shrouded in silence, the branches wrapped me in their peace. When the boundaries were erased, once again the wonder: that I exist."

Arthur Johnson

"What another would have done as well as you, do not do it. What another would have said as well as you, do not say it; written as well, do not write it. Be faithful to that which exists nowhere but in yourself—and thus make yourself indispensible."





Carleen M. Johnson

"Hallowed be Thy name; not mine
Thy kingdom come; not mine
Thy will be done; not mine
Lord—Thine the day and I the day's."

Ronald Edward Johnson

"He who meets sorrow without bitterness,
and is not coarsened by prosperity;
who is defeated but fights on or is triumphant but remains humble;
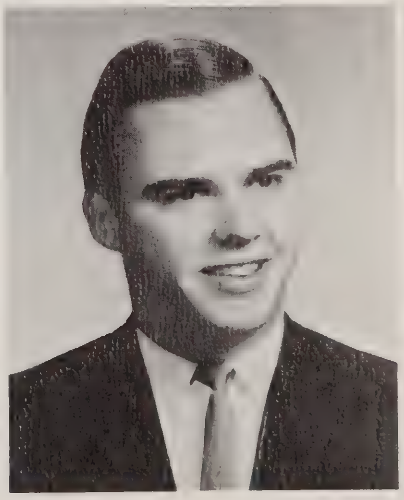
and when the sun is setting is confident of the morn . . .
he is the man who has lived well."

Russell Louis Joubert

"The aura of victory that surrounds a man of goodwill, the sweetness of soul which emanates from him—a flavor of cranberries and cloudberries, a touch of frost and fiery skies."

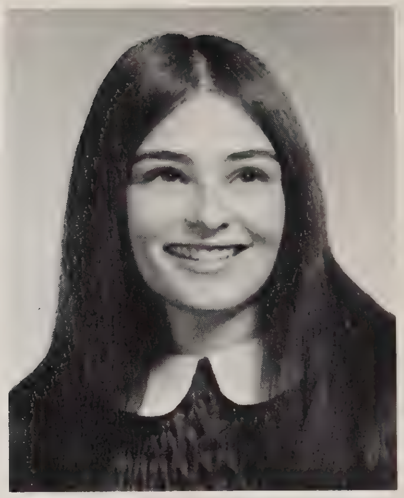
Carol A. Keating

"She has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has always looked for the best in others and given them the best she had; whose life is an inspiration."



John R. Keegan

"The road, you shall follow it.
The fun, you shall stir it.
The cup, you shall fill it.
The pain, you shall conceal it.
The end, you shall endure it."



Kathleen Marie Kelley

"Will there never be a prince who rides
Along the sea and the mountains,
Scattering the sand and the foam into amethyst fountains,
Riding up the hills from the beach in the long summer grass,
Holding the sun in his hand and shattering the ice and the glass?"

Krystal Lee King

"How can you ask if I'm happy going my way? You might as well ask a child at play! There's no need to discuss or understand me. I won't ask of myself to become something else—I'll just be me!"

Diana L. Kloffenstein

"A shared, timeless happiness,
conveyed by a smile, a wave of the hand;
Thanks to those who have taught me this.
Thanks to the days which have taught me this."

Vivian E. Knight

"I am going to strive to live along life's way,
To sing, to laugh, to work, to play and pray,
To let all envy and all malice die,
I am going to try."

Gary Paul Kosciusko

"You need not leave your room. Remain sitting at your table and listen. Do not even listen, simply wait. Do not even wait, be quite still and solitary. The world will freely offer itself to you, it has no choice, it will roll in ecstasy at your feet."

Jean Maria Krilovich

"Youth is not a time of life—it is a state of mind. It is a temper of the will; a quality of the imagination; a vigor of the emotions: Youth means a temperamental predominance of courage over timidity, of the appetite of adventure over a life of ease."

Sharron L. Kruger

"What I mean by living to one's self is living in the world, not of it . . . It is to be a silent spectator of the mighty scene of things; . . . to take curiosity in what is passing in the world, but not to feel the slightest inclination to meddle with it."

Susan Anne Lane

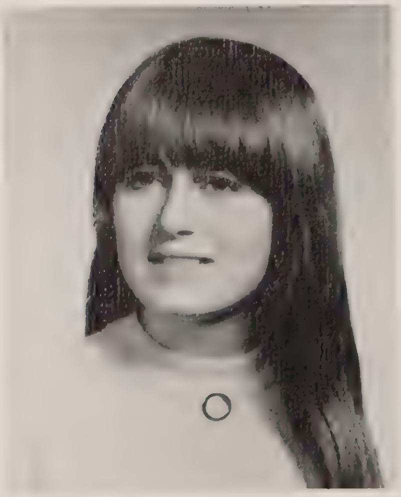
"And when your friend is silent your heart ceases not to listen to his heart; for without words, in friendship, all thoughts all desires, all expectations are born and shared with joy that is unacclaimed."

Jeanne Anne Larochelle

"Kindness is the kingpin of success in life; it is the prime factor in overcoming friction and making the human machinery run smoothly. Kindness makes the whole world akin. It breaks down the barriers of distrust, deceit, envy, jealousy, hate and all their train."

Ann Louise Larson

"They whisper in silence with an impetuous air
She sweeps up from her neck her tumbling hair.
Like a helmeted woman, she peers out from behind
The encircling strands that fall from her comb."



Sherry Ann Lavigne

"True happiness is of a retired nature, and an enemy to pomp and noise; it arises, in the first place, from the enjoyment of one's self; and, in the next, from the friendship and conversation of a few select companions."

Angela T. Leardi

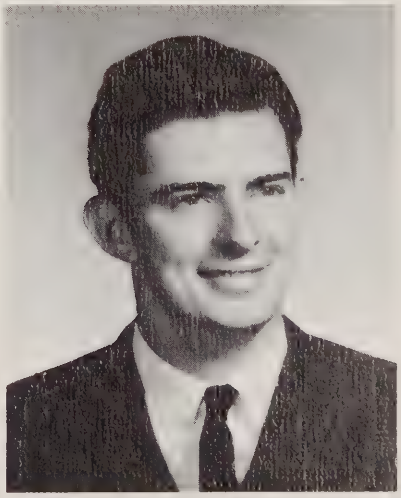
"With thy turned-up pantaloons,
And thy merry whistled tunes;
With thy red lip, redder still,
Kissed by strawberries on the hill."

Mary Leary

"We cannot tell the precise moment when friendship is formed. As in filling a vessel drop by drop, there is at last a drop which makes it run over; so in a series of kindnesses there is at last one which makes the heart run over."

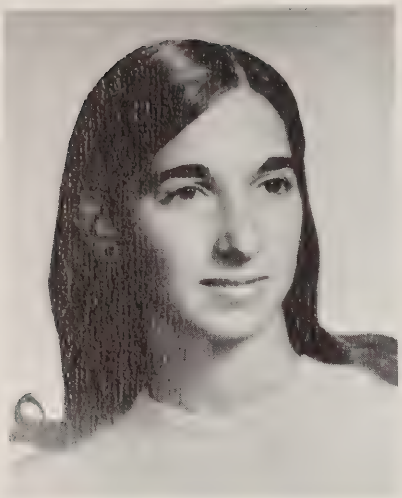
Gerald Paul LeDoux

"There is in a man an animating, ruling, characteristic essence, or spirit, which is himself. This spirit, dull or bright, petty or grand, pure or foul, looks out of the eyes, sounds in the voice, and appears in the manners of each individual. It is what we call personality."



Susan A. Lincoln

"There are two days in the week about which and upon which I never worry. Two carefree days, kept sacredly free from fear and apprehension. One of these days is yesterday . . . and the other is tomorow."



Angela Lopriore

"Mirth is like a flash of lightning, that breaks through a gloom of clouds, and glitters for a moment; cheerfulness keeps up a kind of daylight in the mind, and fills it with a steady and perpetual serenity."

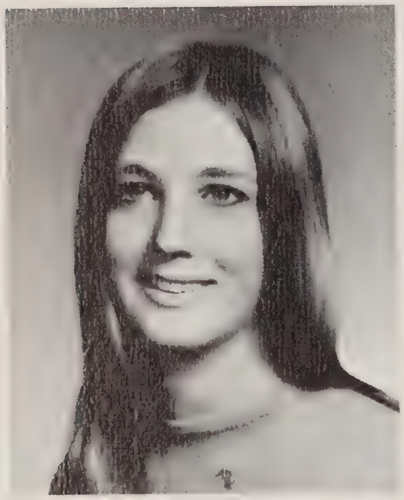
Frank Xavier Lopriore

"There is but one straight to success, and that is merit. The man who is successful is the man who is useful. Capacity never lacks opportunity. It can not remain undiscovered, because it is sought by too many anxious to use it."



Mary Donna Lozoraitis

"Blessed are they who have the gift of making friends, for it is one of God's best gifts. It involves many things, but above all, the power of going out of one's self, and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another."

Judith Lucier

"Life is for character, it is to be lived and lived happily, and everything should be put aside that is not essential to the one thing, namely, more life, more thoughts, and higher, more hours of noble emotion and deeper ones, more friendship and purer."

Marilyn B. Ludovico

"To make of little, to find reasons of interest in common things, to develop a sensibility to mild enjoyments, to inspire the imagination, to throw a charm upon homely and familiar things, will constitute a woman master of her own happiness."

Barbara L. Lusignan

"The stars of midnight shall be dear to her; and she shall lean her ear in many a secret place where rivulets dance their wayward round, and beauty born of murmuring sound shall pass into her face."

Thomas K. Maker

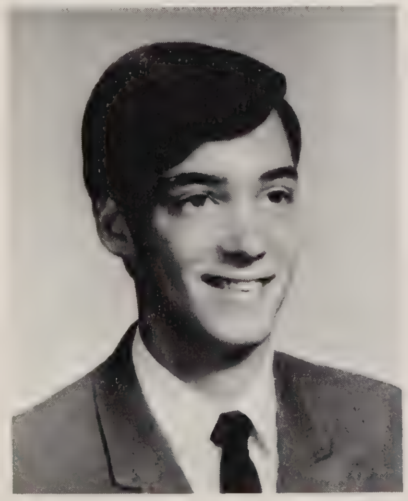
"The men whom I have seen succeed best in life have always been cheerful and hopeful men, who went about their business with a smile on their faces, and took the changes and chances of this mortal life like men, facing rough and smooth alike as it came."

Joseph Mastrogiovanni

"The happiest man is he who best understands his happiness, and he who understands it best is he who knows profoundly that his happiness is only divided from sorrow by a lofty, unwearying, humane and courageous view of life.

William H. Mawdsley

"Kind words he ever had for all;
He knew no base design.
He lived at peace with all mankind,
In friendship he was true . . . sociable . . . gay."



Kristine A. Maynard

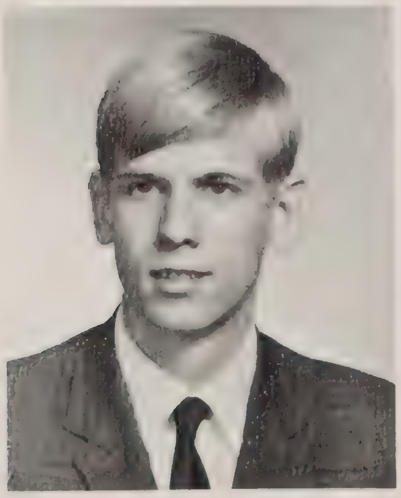
"And on that cheek, and o'er that brow
So soft, so calm, yet eloquent,
A mind at peace with all below,
A heart whose love is innocent!"

Frederick E. McCarthy II

"Out where the handclasp's a little stronger,
Out where the smile dwells a little longer,
Where there's more of singing and less of sighing,
Where there's more of giving and less of buying,
And a man makes friends without half trying."

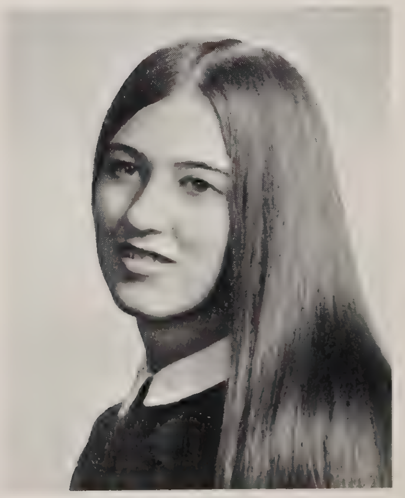
Steven Lee Mc Gill

"A youth was there, of quiet ways,
A man of such a genial mood
The heart of all things he embraced,
And yet of such fastidious taste
He never found the best too good."



Christine Marie Mc Intosh

"Not I, but God in me.
I am the vessel
The draught is God's
And God is the thirsty one."

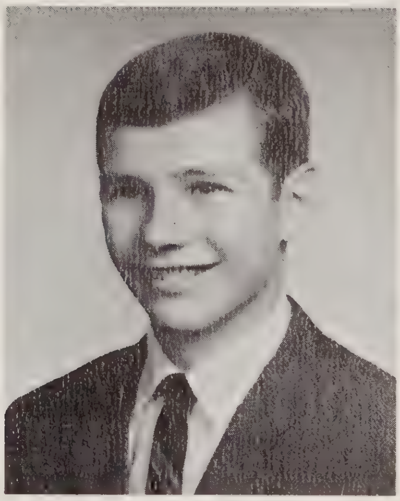


James P. McNamara

"The future belongs to those who know how to wait. Quiet minds cannot be perplexed or frightened but go on in fortune or misfortune at their own private pace, like a clock during a thunderstorm."

Dileta Mary Mc Nally

"Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil; beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things."



James M. Mercik

"A man that has a taste of music or painting, is like one that has another sense, when compared with such as have no relish of those arts. Add a keen wit, and he will be truly a gifted individual."

Joseph James Meringolo

"When any church will inscribe over its altar,
'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart,
and with all thy soul and thy neighbor as thyself,' that church will I join with all my heart and soul."

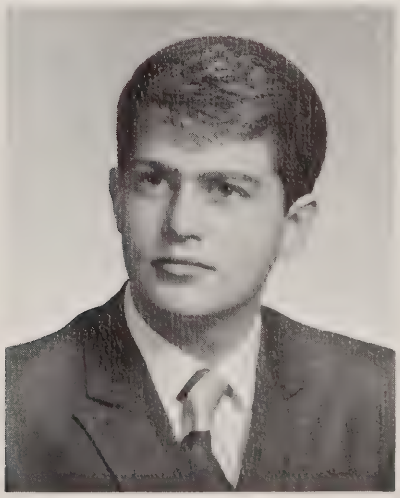
David Charles Merriam

"My crown is in my heart, not on my head;
Not deck'd with diamonds and Indian stones,
Nor to be seen: my crown is call'd content,
A crown it is that seldom kings enjoy."



Barbara Jane Michalak

"I'm always for a better sky.
I'm tempted to let go restraint like splashing phosphorescent paint, and fill the sky as full of moons as circus day of toy balloons."

Carol A. Messina

"And I have loved thee, Ocean! and my joy
Of youthful sports was on thy breast to be Borne, like thy bubbles, onward; from a child
I wantoned with thy breakers, . . .
And trusted to thy billows far and near."

Richard A. Miller

"If you stop all your dreaming and planning,
You will find yourself tethered and bound;
Only hopes that soar upward will conquer
All the barriers that round you are found."

Linda Marie Michalak

"True humor springs not more from the head than from the heart;
it is not contempt, its essence is love; it issues not in laughter, but in smiles, which lie far deeper."

Jane L. Milley

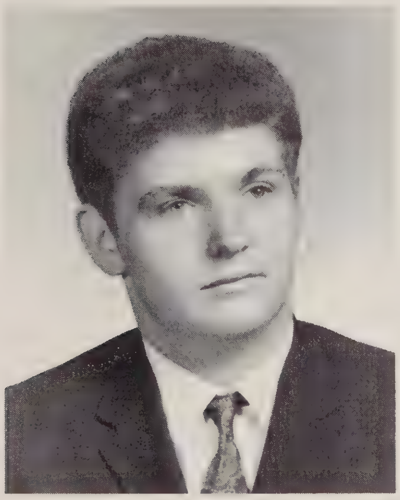
"And there are those who give and know not pain in giving, nor do they seek joy, nor give with mindfulness of virtue; they give as in yonder valley the myrtle breathes its fragrance into space. Through the hands of such as these God speaks, and from behind their eyes He smiles upon the earth."

Jeffrey F. Miner

"Man, unlike any other organic or inorganic thing in the universe, grows beyond his work, walks up the stairs of his concepts, and emerges ahead of his accomplishments."

Richard E. Mirra

"We are born to inquire after truth; it belongs to a greater power to possess it. It is not hid in the bottom of the deeps, but rather elevated to an infinite height in the divine knowledge."



Gary G. Monahan

"All this struggling and striving to make the world better is a great mistake; not because it isn't a good idea to improve the world if you know how to do it, but because striving and struggling is the worst way you could set about doing anything."

Gail L. Moore

"My doctrine is: Live that thou
Mayest desire to live again,
That is thy duty,
For in any case thou wilt live again."

Catherine R. Moossa

"The only strength for me is to be found in the sense of a personal presence everywhere, it scarcely matters whether it be called human or divine; a presence which only makes itself felt at first in this and that particular form and feature."

Paul J. Morello

"You don't learn to hold your own in this world by standing on guard, but by attacking, and getting well-hammered yourself."

Daniel E. Moroney

"Life admits not of delays;
when pleasure can be had, it is fit to catch it. Every hour takes away part of the things that please us, and perhaps part of our disposition to be pleased."

William Charles Moroz

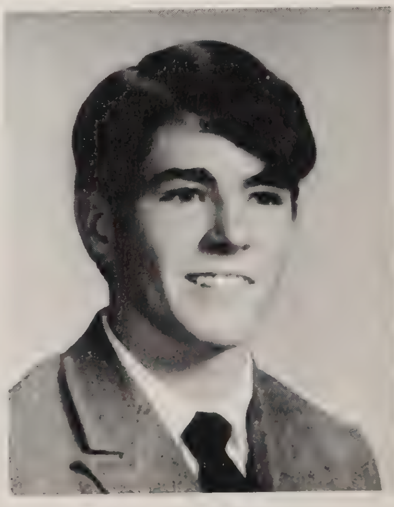
"My mind is a storehouse where all of my living
Is kept for the future when action must cease;
What I do today will be past all retrieving,
Each action will meet me—give heartache or peace."

Jean E. Morton

"Whether I am on the winning or losing side is not the point with me. It is being on the side where my sympathies lie that matters, and I am ready to see it through to the end."

Dennis Patrick Moynihan

"You command the situation if you understand that mortal existence is a state of self-deception and not the truth of being."



Daniel W. Murphy

"It is my ambition to say in ten sentences what everyone says in a whole book,— what everyone else does not say in a whole book."

James Charles Murphy

"I have nothing to do with tomorrow,
Its burdens, then, why should I share?
Its grace and strength I can't borrow,
Then why should I borrow its care?"

Jack Bradford Nadon

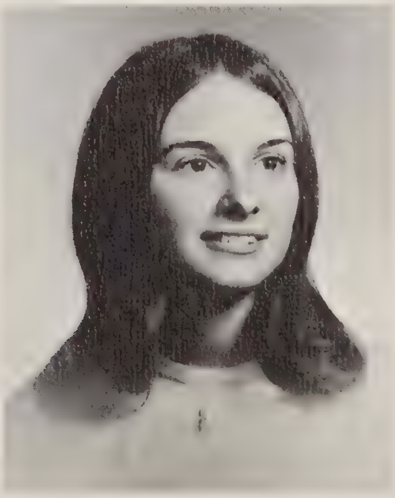
"This is my work; my blessing,
Not my doom, of all who live,
I am the one by whom this work can best be done
In the right way."

Deborah Dawn Nolli

"The great secret is not having bad manners, or good manners or any other particular sort of manners, but having the same sort of manner for all human souls; in short, behaving as if you were in heaven."

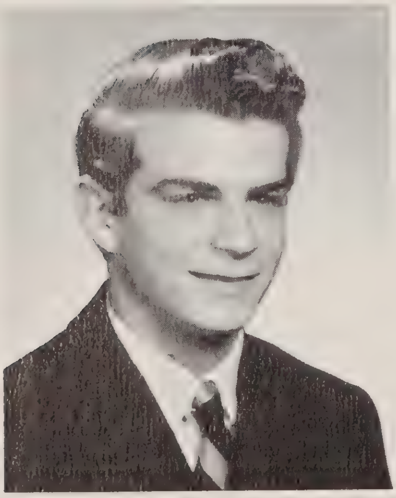
Katherine Jane Nelson

"I have made a great discovery. All that I love belongs to me. Not the chairs and tables in my house, but the masterpieces of the world."



Helen C. O'Brien

"Only one life, so live it well
And keep thy candle trimmed and bright;
Eternity, not time, will tell
The radius of that candle's light."



John Thomas O'Brien

"Beyond this place of wrath and tears
Looms but the Horror of the shade,
And yet the menace of the years
Finds and shall find me unafraid."

Michael Philip O'Connell

"One world is aware, and by far the largest to me, and that is myself;
And whether I come to my own today, or in ten million years,
I can cheerfully take it now, or with equal cheerfulness I can wait."

John O'Connor

"To be free, to be able to Stand up and leave everything behind—
Without looking back. To say Yes—"

Kathleen Ann O'Connor

"Laugh and be merry, remember, better the world with a song.
Laugh for the time is brief, a thread the length of a span.
Laugh and be proud to belong to the old proud pageant of man."

Nicholas Olivieri

"There is a strength in silent, lonely things—
Bare granite rocks that top a mountain's shoulder,
Flame in autumn, sea-green in the spring
Fling their bold challenge as the world grows older".

Philip Alan Pahigian

"I desire so to conduct the affairs of this administration that if at the end, when I come to lay down the reins of power,
I have lost every other friend on earth. I shall at least have one friend left, and that friend shall be down inside of me."

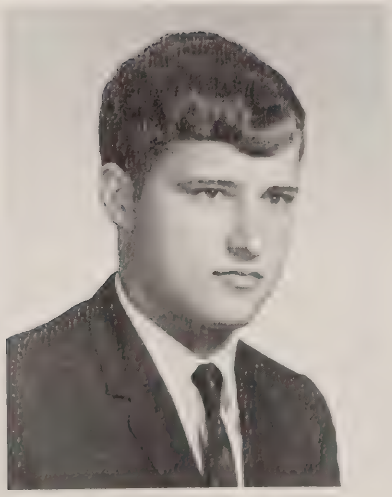
Dianne M. Papagno

"There is so much that we can do—
A kind word spoken here and there
Will ease another's weight of care;
Life needs us all."

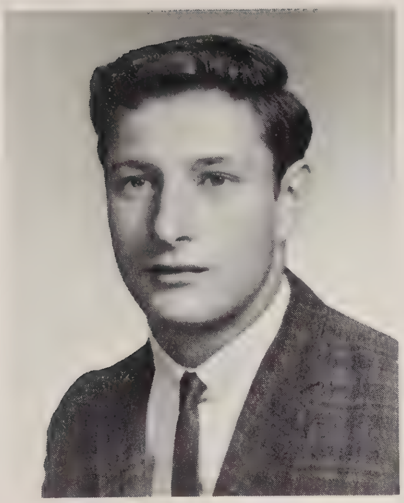
George Joseph Papison

"What is commonest, cheapest, nearest, easiest, is Me, Me going in for my chances, spending for vast returns, adorning myself to bestow myself on the first that will take me, not asking the sky to come down to my good will, scattering it freely forever."



David Allen Parmenter

"You give but little when you give of your possessions. It is when you give of yourself that you truly give. For what are your possessions but things you keep and guard for fear you may need them tomorrow?"



Richard O. Parmenter

"Our cares we can cast on Thee, then Thou carest for us. How can we be troubled about the future road, since it belongs to Thee?
How can we be troubled where it leads, since it finally but leads us to Thee!"

Joyce C. Pearson

"Not Canvas or in marble,
or in flowers which bloom to fade.
Or in lovely skies which vanish,
are lasting beauties made;
they make bright the dismal places,
but the kind and cheery voice,
And the heart that is unselfish,
make the weary to rejoice."

John J. Pecevich

"When you've seen beyond yourself—
then you may find peace of mind, is waiting there—and the time will come when you see we're all one,
and life flows on within you and without you."

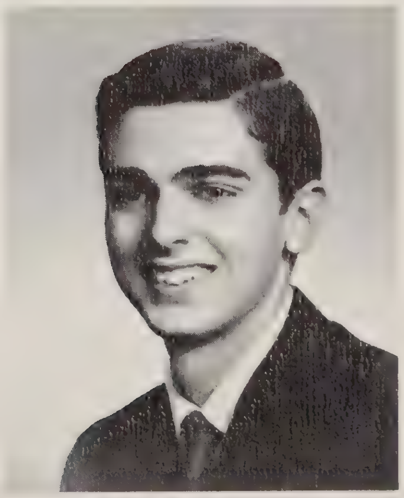
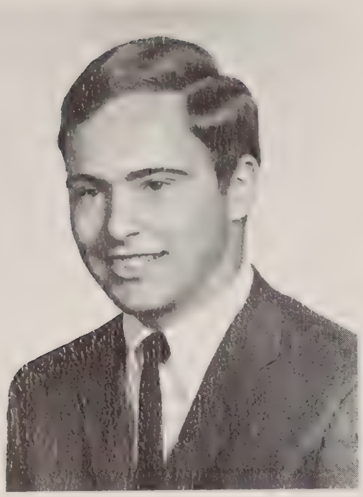
Mark Richard Perez

"I have been tangled in the nets too long;
I shall escape and find my way again
Back to the quiet place where I belong,
These will be waiting after my release:
The sheltered ways, the quiet ways of peace."





John David Perreault

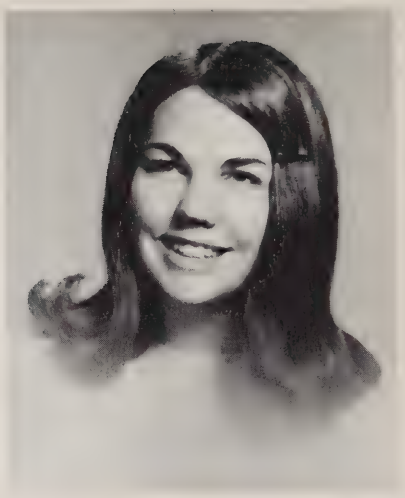
"What distinguishes the "elite" from the masses is only his insistence upon quality; this implies a responsibility, to all for all; which is the reflection of a humble and spontaneous response to Life—with his endless possibilities, and a unique present which never happens twice."



Karen Anne Persson

"A jest, a laughing word, often decides the highest matters better than sharpness and seriousness."

Glenn Carl Peterson

"To live content with small means; to seek elegance
rather than luxury, and refinement than fashion;
To study hard, think quietly, talk frankly;
To bear all cheerfully, do all bravely, await occasion, nevery hurry: this is my way of life."

Kenneth Joseph Phillips

"An educated man, as it were, in the midst of a boundless arsenal, filled with all the weapons and engines which man's skill has been able to devise from the earliest time."

Nancy Lee Pierce

"Do not look back, and do not dream about the future, either. It will neither give you back the past, nor satisfy your other daydreams. Your duty, your reward—your destiny—are here and now."

Peter C. Pope

"Last night I had the strangest dream, I ever had before. I dreamed there was a mighty room, and the room was filled with men. And the paper they were signing said they'd never fight again."

Paula Portosa

"It is in loving, not in being loved
The heart finds its quest;
It is in giving, not in getting
Our lives are blest."

Linda A. Puchek

"I would be true, for there are those who trust me;
I would be pure, for there are those who care,
I would be friend of all—the foe, the friendless;
I would be giving and forget the gift.
I would look up—and laugh—and love—and lift."

Dante F. Quercio

"We live in deeds, not years, in thoughts, not breaths;
In feeling, not in figures on a deal.
We should count time by heart throbs.
He most lives who thinks most,
Feels the noblest, acts the best."

Edmund James Rafferty

"Far better it is for man to achieve great success though sprinkled with failure than to take refuge with those poor souls who neither suffer much nor achieve much, for they live in the twilight which expresses neither joy nor sorrow."

Lawrence T. Rainville

"How happy is he born and taught,
That serveth not another's will;
Whose armor is his honest thought,
And simple truth his utmost skill!
Lord of himself, though not of hands;
And having nothing, yet hath all."

Aldo J. Rana

"The ones who live are the ones who struggle.
The ones whose soul and heart
are filled with high purpose.
Yes, these are the living ones."

Constance M. Reed

"I long to be with people, crowds,
To share their morning animation,
Prepared to bring them to their knees,
To smash to bits their desolation."

Joan Marie Reuther

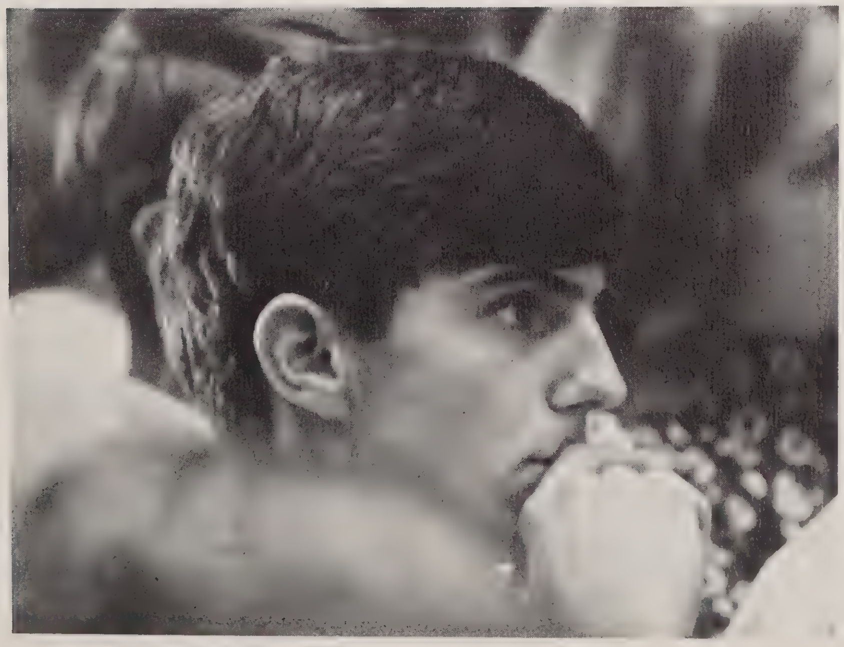
"The woods are lovely, dark and deep.
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep,
And miles to go before I sleep."

Ronald Joseph Ricciardi

"I cannot rest from travel, I will drink life to the lees.
All times I have enjoyed greatly, have suffered greatly,
Both with those that loved me, and alone.
I am a part of all that I have met."

Elizabeth Ann Rice

"May the saints protect ye—an' sorrow neglect ye,
An' bad luck t' the one that doesn't respect ye.
An' the top of the morning t' all that belong t' ye
An' long life t' yer honour; that's the end of my song t' ye!"

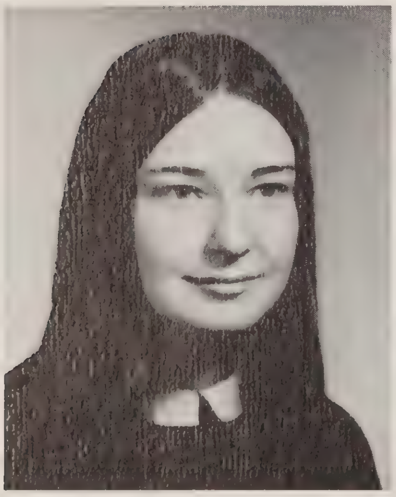


Linda Gale Richardson

"From quiet homes and first beginning,
Out to the undiscovered ends,
There's nothing worth the wear of winning
But laughter and the love of friends."

Robert Ricker

"God did not put us on earth to wonder why we are living, or what for, but to live. . . . The most lost day of all is the day on which we do not laugh."



Mary Elizabeth Riley

"How happy is the little Stone that rambles in the Road alone, Whose Coat of elemental Brown a passing Universe put on,
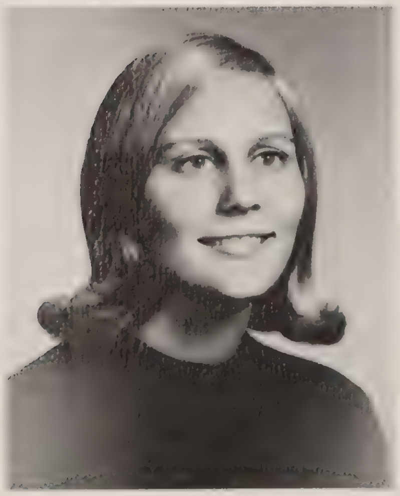
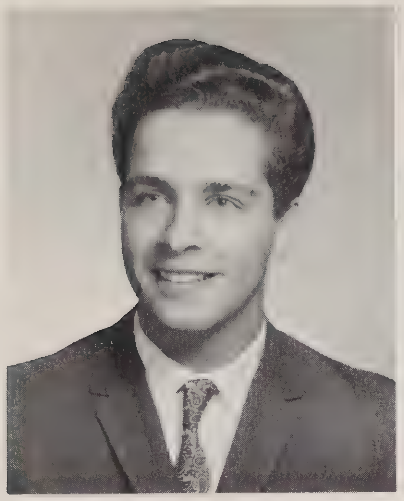
And independent as the Sun associates or glows alone,
Fulfilling absolute Decree in casual simplicity."



Ruth Ann Romans

"Even in the darkest hours of life let us remember with comfort and assurance that for each of us something of Paradise is left: In the certainty of God's love, in the beauty of the stars and flowers, and in the happiness which radiates from a child's eyes."



Allan Michael Rose

"Blessed who can unconcern'dly find
Hours, days and years slide soft away,
In health of body, peace of mind,
Quiet by day."

Arthur Leo Rose

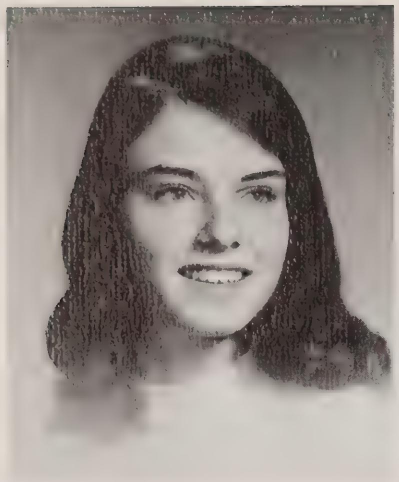
"All his life he jumps into the train after it has started and jumps out before it has stopped; and he never once gets left behind, or breaks a leg."

Janet T. Rosiello

"It is better to say,
'This one thing I do.'
Than to say, 'These forty things I dabble in'."

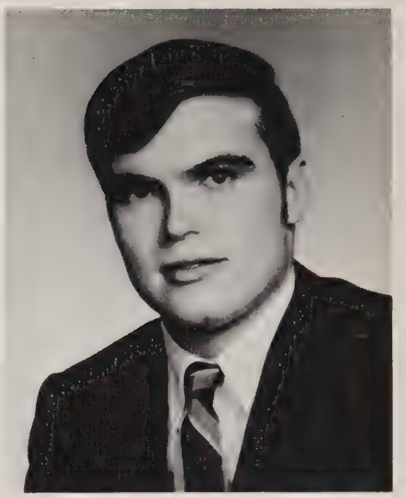
Raymond J. Rosiello

"He is beaten down by every force and circumstance around him, but he stays human. He doesn't become a category or a thing for the sake of making it. He gambles making it on his resolution to be a man."



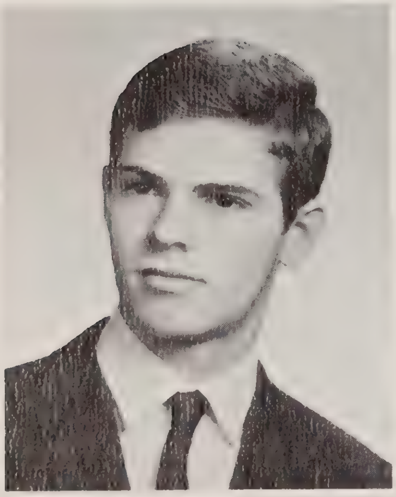
Ellen Mary Ross

"As full of spirit as the month of May,
And gorgeous as the sun at midsummer.
A little voice, so soft and kind;
Life's sweetest joys are hers."



Arthur P. Rossi

"Let independence be my boast,
Ever mindful what it cost;
Ever grateful for the prize,
Let its altar reach the skies!"



Roger Phillip Roy

"He received—nothing.
But for that he Paid more than others
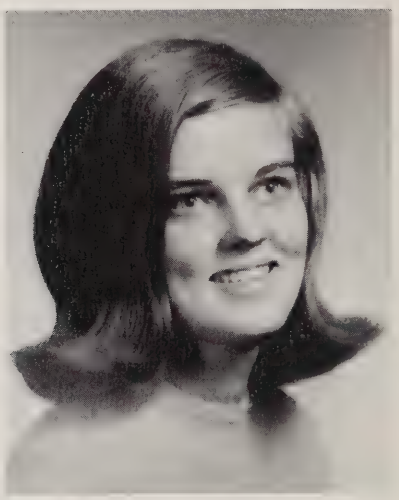
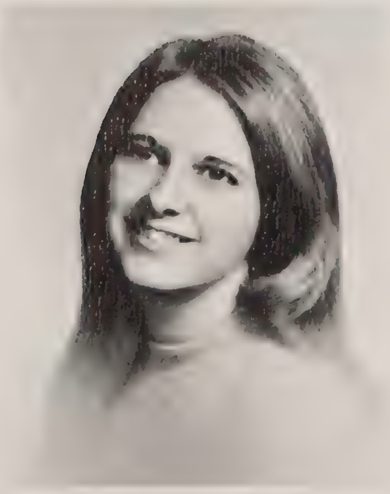
For their treasures."



Paula Jane Rowse

"Her thoughts are like a flock of butterflies.
She has a merry love of little things,
And a bright flutter of speech, whereto she brings
A threefold eloquence—voice, hands and eyes."



Diane L. Rule

"You are a child of the universe no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.
Therefore, be at peace with God."

C. Paul Russell

"I mean this guy could so easily have given up. But he didn't and he stayed—quite sensibly, maturely, it seems to me—in the fight to be himself, a human being, a person, a man."

Denise A. Russell

"Somewhere, I think, is a trail that is old I shall take when the sun turns its face toward the gold of the west, and the babble of voices shall cease in a whisper—a faint benediction of peace."

John Michael Russell

"Some men lead great lives, some wise, some sincere, some popular and some amiable. Some men have all these virtues. A man's real life is that accorded to him in the thought of other men by reason or natural love."

Ronald Paul Safer

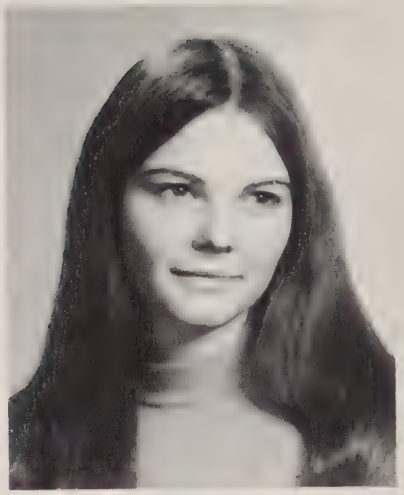
"There are many forms of strength. There is the intellectual strength of the scholar; the strength of character in the individual; the strength of conviction in the midst of opposition, and physical strength. There is also the strength of true sportsmanship which in actuality is a combination of all the types."

Gayle Michele Saltus

"The quality of mercy is not strained—
It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath; it is twice blest—
It blesseth him that gives and him that takes:
'Tis mightiest in the mightiest."

Thea Marie Samara

"My soul, sit thou a patient looker-on;
Judge not the play before the play is done.
Her plot hath many changes; every day
Speaks a new scene; the last act crowns the play."



Bonnie Jean Sandy

"The best and most wonderful thing that can happen to you in this life is that you should be silent and let God work and speak."

Dianne M. Santoro

"Landscape: only your immediate experience of the detail can provide the soil in your soul where the beauty of the whole can grow."

Robert W. Saulenas

"The scholar relies on his manuscripts.
The artist depends on his ability.
Every one is an essential part of life,
but the skillful are more so.
They build and repair the world."

Diane Mary Savage

"In silent shade, 'neath silent skies;
A treasure with its gifts concealed—
This is the year that for you waits
Beyond tomorrow's gates."

Wray E. Schelin

"Night is drawing nigh—how long the road is. But, for all the time the journey has already taken, how you have needed every second of it in order to learn what the road passes—By."

Linda M. Sbrogna

"One gentle word that we may speak or one kind loving deed,
May, though a trifle, poor and weak prove like a tiny seed;
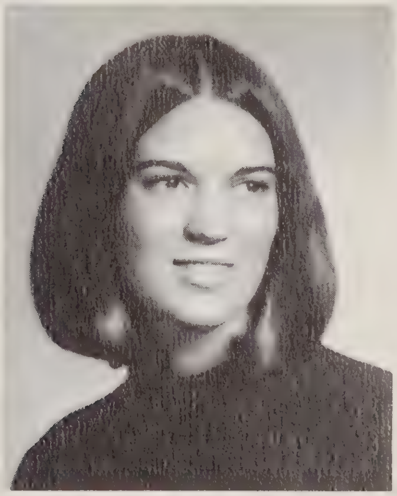
And who can tell what good may spring
From such a very little thing?"



Karen G. Schold

"And she alone is great who turns the voice of the wind into a song made sweeter by her own loving."

David T. Sharon

"I will not live out of me.
I will not see with other's eyes;
I would be free; I cannot be while I take things as others please to rate them.
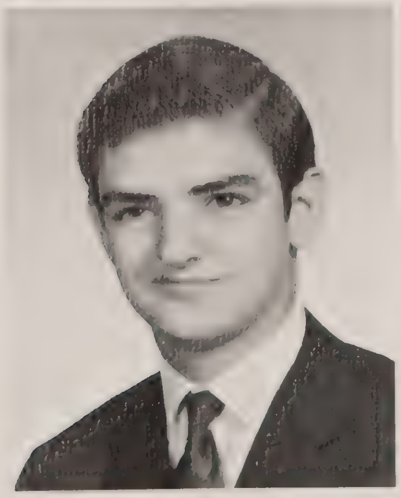
I dare attempt to lay out my own road."

Patricia Ann Sheehan

"To smother care in happiness and grief in laughter;
To hold the present close—not to question hereafter,
To have enough to share—to know the joy of giving;
To thrill with all the sweets of life—is living."

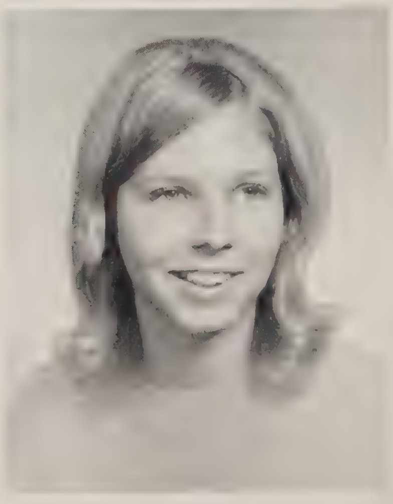
George A. Simone

"Escapist never—and so no one will ever escape life through an alley way. To me all forks in the road are a gamble and each decision a risk I must take. I do not stumble as I look back, but continue on positively. And if I find that I have taken a well worn path, I do not complain if it suits me."



Linda Carol Simulavich

"Silence is the space occupied by thought. Thought is the seed of action. There is no thought which is not seed as well as fruit. Love for the year, not the day. Let logic, let character rule the hour."



Marilyn Joan Skow

"Better trust all and be deceived,
And weep that trust and that deceiving,
Than doubt one heart that, if believed,
Had blessed one's life with true believing."

Glenn Frederick Smith

"Should he lay by the personal and make
Of his own fate an instance of all fate?
What is one man among so many men?
Can one man think one thing and think it long?
For realist, what is is what should be."

Sara Jane Smith

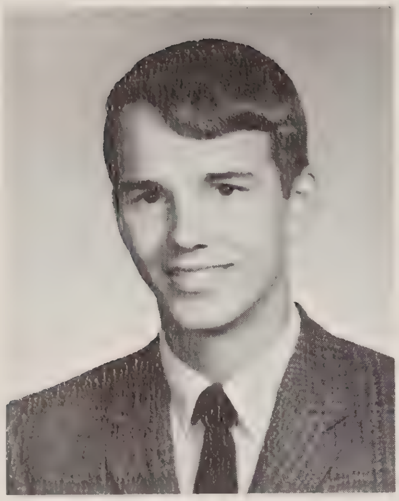
"An end of day. The fallen sun embraces dark hemlocks and spruces, all the dark gods.
Being is like a jewel—warm with light."



Gary K. Sooy

"That men have climbed the Matterhorn and McKinley means little; that they should want to climb them and try to climb them means everything. For it is the ultimate wisdom of the mountains that a man is never more a man than when is starving for what seems beyond his grasp."

Mary Ellen Spellman

"There'll be falling into view much to rearrange;
And there'll be a time for you to marvel at the change.
They that have the least to fear question hardest what is here;
When long-hidden skies are clear the stars look strange."

Robert L. Steinberg

"The young men of this land are not, as they are often called, a "lost" race—they are a race that never yet has been discovered. And the whole secret, power, and knowledge of their own discovery is locked within them—they know it, have the whole thing in them—and they cannot utter it."

Janet Marie Stockhaus

"Only one thing matters—
That wherever we go
And however we go
We hear the music of life."

Paul Leonard Stranieri

"More than most people, the artist is afraid of the gold gone from his eye. He may feel something great and close to nothing, a rare expanse of innocence. How revealing it would be to find the signs and hearts of those who have known its incomparable spell."

Theodore C. Stolaroff

"Where was he going, this man against the sky?
You know not, nor do I.
But this we know, if we know anything:
That we may laugh and fight and sing
And of our transience here make offering."

Barbara-Jean Marie Sullivan

"Go take the world my dearest wish and blessing, little book.
And should one ask who's in the dish
Or how the beast was took,
Says: Wisdom is a silver fish and love a golden hook."

Beth J. Sullivan

"She doeth little kindnesses,
Which most leave undone, or despise:
For naught that sets one heart at ease,
And giveth happiness or peace,
Is low-esteemed in her eyes."

Laurie A. Sullivan

"To wake at dawn with a winged heart and Give thanks for another day of loving;
To return home at eventide with gratitude; and then to sleep
With a prayer for the beloved in your heart
And a sound of praise upon your lips."

Paul Francis Sweeney

"I am still runnin' I guess
but my road has seen many changes for I've served my time as a refugee in mental terms an' in physical terms an' many a fear has vanished an' many an attitude has fallen an' many a dream has faded."

Alan H. Swenson

"Music and strength if art
Beneath long winter rain
Have played the living part,
With the firm mind for gain,
Nor is the mind in vain."

Kathryn S. Syslo

"Dear God, even when we do not heed the sun, there is still the moon and the stars and the lamp on a winter's evening—there is so much beautiful light in the world."

Pamela Jean Szymanski

"Live all you can; it's a mistake not to. It doesn't so much matter what you do in particular, so long as you have had your life. If you haven't had that, what have you had?"

Lois Justine Teikari

"He who has never
Forgiven an enemy
Has not yet tasted
One of the most sublime
Enjoyments of life."

Barbara Anne Thomas

"How can you live, how exist without assurance of or at least the memory of someone, something fantastic, marvelous always behind you?"

Stephen Tise

"The breaking wave and the muscle as it contracts obey the same law. An austere line gathers the body's play of strength in a bold balance. Shall my soul meet this curve, as a bend in the road on its way to form?"

Charles Patrick Tonelli

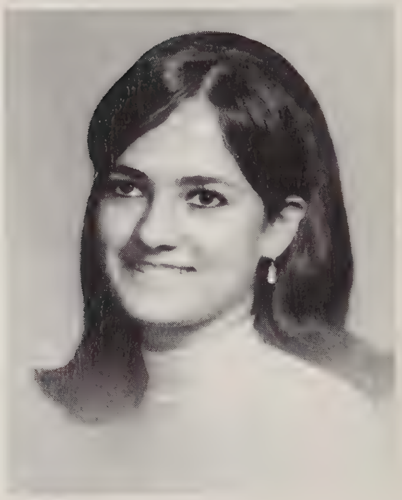
"You who feel yourselves nailed to the things you carry on your backs, you who have allowed yourselves to think you're twirled by a power you can't escape: Hear the melody played on a single string. Men after men rise from it."

Walter Steven Tozeski

"I have noticed my conscience for many years, and I know it is more trouble and bother to me than anything else I started with."

Phyllis D. Tracy

"If we give love and sympathy
Even to those who hate us
We fill them so with mystery
They know not how to rate us."



Linda S. Trautman

"She vibrates so with what she wishes to become, all of what she is shimmers as though indeed she was an illusion beautifully conceived, a glimmering thing to make clear to others what in truth they are."

Paula Ann Trinder

"But the days were moments to my work;
I felt the close too soon!
There—a glance at the beautiful distance—
The days seemed months and weeks were years."

Susan E. Turner

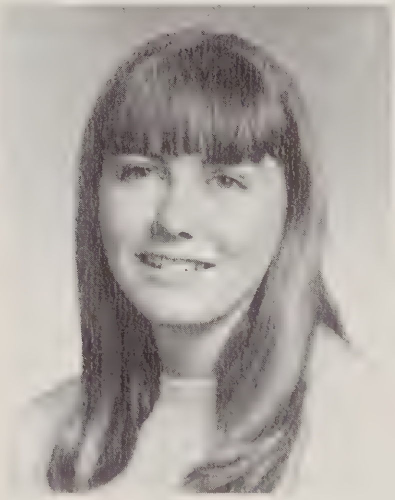
"Yes to God: yes to Fate: yes to yourself
This reality can wound the soul,
But has the power to heal her."

Stephen F. Turo

"It is not just a wish, this craving. It is more as if one were demanding the only thing to which one is truly entitled: that which perhaps one was, but yearns at any rate to be. Surely strong sensing such as this must come from something that is."

Paul Francis Tymon

"He has attained absolute courage and humility by what he has done for others. He is untroubled and happy."

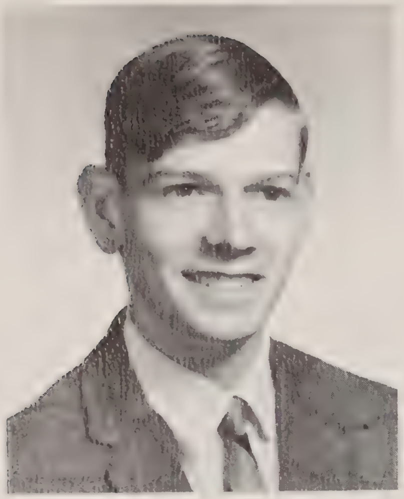


Linda Van Ness

"Lean fare, austere forms,
Brief delight, few words.
Tow down in cool space
One star—the morning star
In the pale light of sparseness
Lives the Real Thing
And we are real."

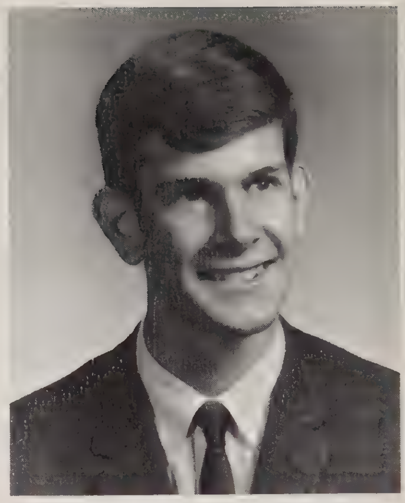
Richard J. Venuti

"When the morning's freshness has been replaced by the weariness of midday, when the leg muscles quiver under the strain, the climb seems endless, and, suddenly, nothing will go quite as you wish—it is then that you must not hesitate."



Alan Kenneth Wagner

"Every deed and every relationship is surrounded by an atmosphere of silence. Friendship needs no words—it is solitude delivered from the anguish of loneliness."

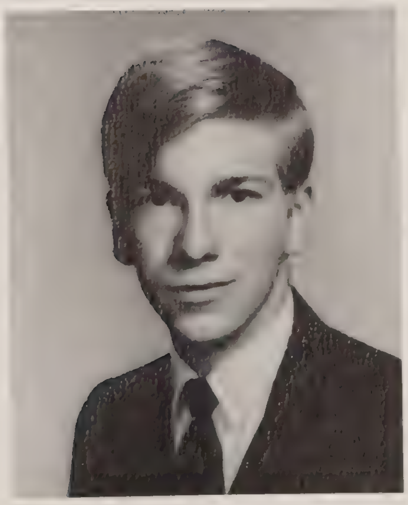


Bruce Wagner

"Don't lose faith in humanity. Think of the hundred-ten million people in the United States who have never played you a single trick."

Heidi Louise Wagner

"O lead my spirit, O raise it from these heavy depths, transported by Thy Art that fearlessly and joyfully it soar up to Thee. For Thou, Thou knowest all things, Thou alone canst inspire."



Dale B. Ward

"I know that one is able to win people far more by the spoken than by the written word, and that every great movement on this globe owes its rise to the great speakers and not to the great writers."

Thomas Richard Wentzell

"It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live our own; but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude."

Marsha Jean Westberg

"There is in every true woman's heart a spark of heavenly fire, which lies dormant in the daylight of prosperity; but which kindles up, and beams and blazes in the dark hour of adversity."

John B. Whitney

"Why do you sit there looking like an envelope without any address on it and see me going mad before your face with suspense?"

Cheryl Ann Williamson

"A love of beauty is born with us.
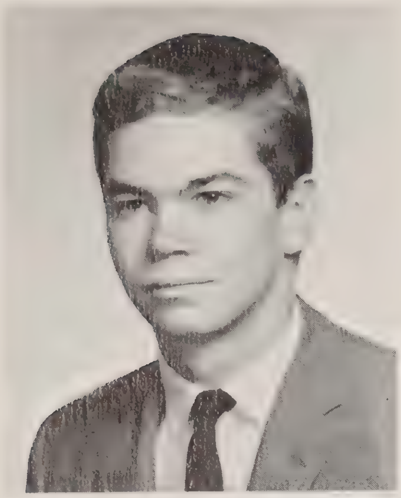
It is inherent. And God, the Creator, knew of its power, so he planted it everywhere—and in His great realm of this earth it is free to all, no matter what the circumstance of birth or fortune."



Scott H. Williamson

"Don't waste your life in doubts and fears:
spend yourself on the work before you, well assured that the right performance of this hour's duties will be the best preparation for the hours or ages that follow it."

Stephen R. Wyeth

"Though the mills of God grind slowly,
Yet they grind exceedingly small;
Though with patience He stands waiting,
With exactness grinds He all."

Deborah Jean Yankus

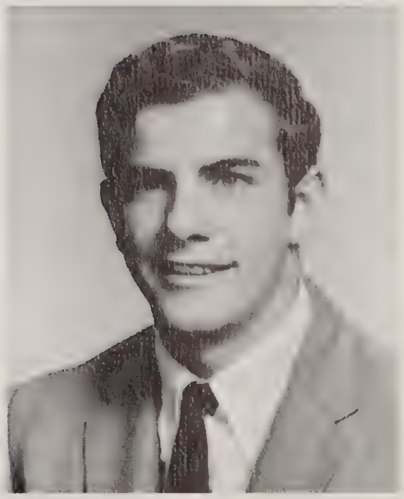
"There is a mystery in human hearts,
And though we be encircled by a host
Of those who love us well and are beloved,
To every one of us, from time to time,
There comes a sense of utter loneliness."

Gary W. Yankus

"Mock not nor jest at anything of importance;
break no jests that are sharp or biting;
and if you deliver anything witty or pleasant,
abstain from laughing thereat yourself.
A sense of humor is a good quality for any man."

John Francis Zecco, Jr.

"Give us, or give us, the man who sings at his work! Be his occupation what it may, he is equal to any of those who follow the same pursuit in silent sullenness. He will do more in the same time—he will do it better—he will persevere longer."



Donald F. Zeek

"I have said nothing but what I am willing to live by, and, if it be the pleasure of Almighty God, to die by."

JOHN F. KNIPE

"You have to make the good times yourself; take the little times and make them into big times;
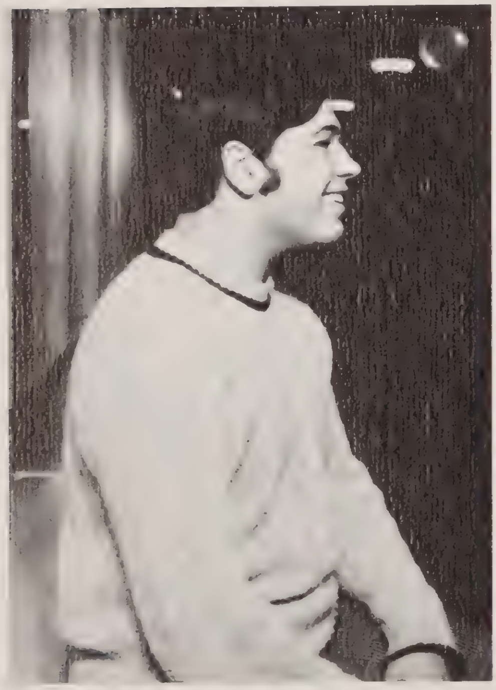
and save the times that are all right for the ones that aren't so good."



LEO FLYNN

"There are golden apples to be picked
And green hills to climb
And meadows to run when you are young.

There are roaring rivers to be crossed.
And bridges to build
And wild oats to sow as you grow."

ACTIVITIES

CIRCLE OF HONOR

Shrewsbury's

Advisor Mr. Kaminski discusses a problem with secretary-treasurer Christine Melanson.

The Advisors—Mr. Henry Sullivan and Miss Judith Hubbard.

Liaison

As the Nation and the World is shaken by rioting and unrest, the basic cause is often overlooked—lack ot communication, between parents and adolescents, officials and citizens, administrations and students. All that is often needed is a liaison, an in-between, to express the problems and needs of the students. Shrewsbury's liaison is the Student Council, consisting of eighteen members of the student body and advisors from the faculty and the administration. The members discuss all problems brought before them and try to express the opinions and viewpoints of the students. The Student Council is the school's only student-elected governing body, and its members sincerely hope that the students will appreciate it enough to want to maintain the tradition of representative government in the country they are to inherit.

Wide awake and attentive officers—Betty Rice, President, and Bob Ricker, Vice-President.

Kathy Pierce, Cheryl Frongillo, Jack Donahue, and Dave Rocco discuss the never-ending problems of the Citizenship Committee.

Bombard (Secretary), B. J. Sullivan (Treasurer), Mrs. Muriel Tinkham (Advisor).

Francais

In the past decade or so, The Republic of France and the United States of America have drifted apart. The one time close alliance has become a loose "friendship" characterized by continuous political jabs at one another. To help ease the hard feelings between these two nations, Le Cercle Francais was formed, dedicated to the proposition that Frenchmen and Americans could live together in harmony. Lead by Mary Lozoraitis, Betty Rice, Kathy Bombard, and B. J. Sullivan, not too much concerning the diplomatic relations between the two nations was accomplished, but we did have a lot of fun. Alors, c'est la vie!

Club

Latin can hardly be called a dead language when there are students as those in Latin Club to revive the blood-curdling events which occurred in the Roman Colosseum so many centuries ago and recreate the merciless stabbing of Brutus at a Monday afternoon meeting. Actually the feats of the club are not quite as dramatic as all that, but who wants to go right home after school?

Masque

and Wig

The curtain falls . . . the audience applauds, then leaves . . . the play is ended. Months of planning, weeks of devoted time and hours of frustrating rehearsals are over in a few short acts. The moment is brief, too brief. Behind the undulating curtain, the blinding lights are dimmed but the chaos still leaves the stage suffocating. Tears of bittersweet joy stain the happy faces. Some seem embarrassed by smiles that are too broad. Words of praise and congratulations mark a superb performance. Hugs, kisses and handshakes help to relieve the tension and nervousness of lines forgotten, wrong entrances, cues missed—incidents not detected by the audience, perhaps, but not forgotten in the minds of the performers. The pent up feelings of anxiousness and jitters which the cast experiences before the curtain rises change to feelings of satisfaction, but somthing is definitely lost in the transformation.

The Biology Club promotes and develops the scientific minds and ideas of those people who are interested in the living things around them. In this club they find opportunities to improve their knowledge and discuss their theories. Here, one finds the aspiring biologists of tomorrow.

Mr. Joseph Paré became the advisor of the newly formed Physical Science Club. Under his supervision, the scientists set to work performing advanced experiments. On Monday afternoons they could be seen weighing an electron or performing quantitative chemical analysis. Members who obtained consistently good results were awarded a prize at the end of the year. Many will enter the fields of science and engineering.

The Shrewsbury High School Rocket Research Society is composed of the aero-space-minded students of the school. Every Thursday afternoon, these enthusiasts can be found in room 404 designing and building their own rockets under the guidance of Mr. John Flynn. About once a month, the "pseudo-technicians" have an opportunity to test their contraptions, weather permitting.

This year, due to the abundance of inclement weather, our manned moon shot had to be delayed. It now appears that NASA will beat us there.

BLAST OFF!

Shrewsbury

Anyone roaming the corridors of Shrewsbury High School late in the afternoon probably has seen the boys and girls of the Math Club in Room 229 preparing for the next meet. Mr. Cote would be seen demonstrating mathematical short-cuts to enable his Colonials to make a good showing against teams from other schools. The competition covers problems ranging from set theory to modular arithmetic.

Even though a relatively new team, Shrewsbury has made an impression at each of the four varsity meets. The freshmen, under the guidance of Mrs. Shaw, fielded teams of their own for three meets.

Taking music from a printed page and presenting it to an audience is not that easy a task. The Shrewsbury High School Orchestra, directed by Mr. Ralph Metcalf, performs all its music admirably at many concerts and school activities. Orchestra members spend many hours in diligent practice preparing for concerts. Of course, all is not work—rehearsals always have their lighter moments. The enjoyment and satisfaction of having performed will make Orchestra a rewarding experience for all its members.

One of the finer humanitarian organizations in the Shrewsbury High school is the Junior Red Cross. All students are aware of the more obvious purpose of the Junior Red Cross which to them is to extend concrete help in times of emergency or catastrophe. The less evident purpose is to create a sense of responsibility, a feeling of compassion, a desire to be involved. In this school year 1968-1969 this organization has conducted the usual projects as in the past years but somehow the participation by all students by way of the homeroom organization was with a deeper feeling and more involvement. The enrollment reached just a little less than 100%, the contributions were greater in amount and frequency. The Advisers, Mrs. King and Miss Murphy, and the officers feel that our goal was more than reached.

To The Future

The Future Homemakers of America consists of girls interested in planning and learning how to be good homemakers and citizens. Their interests range beyond their classroom backgrounds. They are active in existing community programs and initiate some of their own; helping the elderly, the orphaned, and the disadvantaged.

The school newspaper is printed once each month, under the guidance of Mr. John Tsombakos. Much more work goes into the paper than many students realize. In journalism class, the principles of writing articles for newspapers and magazines are taught. With this knowledge, each member of the class submits articles for the paper on the special area to which he has been assigned. After all articles are in, the paper is printed, collated, and stapled. The Town Crier is then distributed to the homerooms, usually meeting the approval of all students.

National

The National Forensic League is a unique club made up of students who thrive on the stomach pains and headaches that every speech tournament brings. Room 221 is always bustling with the worried officers and interested members trying to decide what to do with money, decals and daffodils.

Although the Shrewsbury High speakers haunted the halls of only one tournament this year, their forensic skills were exhibited quite plainly at most of the meetings, for which reason not too much was resolved.

The National Honor Society has long been one of Shrewsbury High School's most admired organizations. It builds leadership, dignity, sophistication, and pride in all its members. But the members get much more than dignity and pride. They get an Honor Pass. This pass, personally signed by the Vice-Principal, delegates powers to members that non-members could never hope to receive. The Honor Pass makes National Honor Society members leaders, innovators, and snobs.

There was little for the fans to cheer about at the arrival of the 1968-69 basketball season. Graduation had depleted the squad, and the incoming members lacked the size and experience needed to become a winning ballclub. The experts were certain that Shrewsbury dominance in league play had expired.

Coach Paquette's approach to the season remained the same. Run laps, shoot baskets, learn plays, and then run some more. It was not unusual for the team to spend close to four hours a day practicing and preparing for the long season ahead.

After the first two outings, Shrewsbury had two defeats. The experts' prophecy was upheld. The first defeat was due to inexperience and the second a humiliating seventeen point loss to St. Peter's—to lack of size. However, during the next three games the offense jelled; and then the defense, which had long been a Shrewsbury trademark, came into its own and we were on our way.

In the rematch with St. Peter's, which was then considered the best quintet in central Massachusetts, the proud, "never say die" Colonials overcame the Guardians in the final seconds, winning 54-53; and thus proving that the 1968-69 Shrewsbury basketball team is at the same parallel as Shrewsbury teams of the past.

Girls'

As strange as it may seem, some girls can have more fun when they are wearing sneakers and white wooly socks and running around in a hot gym for four afternoons a week, than when they are prettied up in a new dress. Yep—strange as it may seem it's love—love of basketball—love of sports. These girls will long remember every game, every practice, and all the hard work they did as a team. It's sad to leave.
